REFERENCES

66. Portero, A., Remunan-Lopez, C., Criado, M.T. and Alonso, M. J., “Preparation of reacetylated chitosan microspheres with suitable properties for the controlled release of active anti-microbial agents, such as amoxycillin and metronidazole, in the gastric cavity”. J. Microencapsul., 19(6), 797, 2002.

75. Obeidat, W.M. and Price, J.C., “Theophylline microspheres were prepared by the emulsion-solvent evaporation method using cellulose acetate butyrate (CAB381-20) and mixtures of CAB381-20(R) and cellulose acetate phthalate”, J. Microencapsul., 21, 47, 2004.

211. Sinkula, A. A., Rationale for design of acid ester by the neighbouring dextran hydroxy groups, Acta. Pharm. Suec; 1976, 7(13 Suppl)

