ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I take this opportunity to express my profound thanks to my distinguished guide Dr. S. Perumalsamy, Professor and Head of the Department of Economics, Bharathiar University whose association with this project is commendable. His expert advice, pointed criticisms and intellectual leadership enabled me complete the thesis successfully. I am immensely pleased to record my deep sense of gratitude and the hearty thanks for all the pains he had taken in supervising this study.

I thank Dr. M. Thirunavukkarasu, former Principal, C.B.M. College and former Director, School of Distance Education, Bharathiyar University, Coimbatore who encouraged me to take up this study. He enlightened me the basic concepts involved in this work while I was working under him.

I would like to thank the Vice-Chancellor and the Registrar, Bharathiyar University for permitting me to continue my research under the guidance of Dr. S. Perumalsamy.
I am thankful to the University Grants Commission, New Delhi, Dr. D. Muthuraj, Principal, CBM College for having awarded me UGC - FIP Fellowship which was helpful in completing my thesis.

I would like to thank Dr. M.R. Prabhu, Deputy Director, Western Regional Centre, I.C.S.S.R., Bombay for awarding me ICSSR study Grant. In this occasion, I recollect the generous help extended by Dr. S.R. Ganpule, Librarian, Jawaharlal Nehru Library, University of Bombay and Miss. Ubadyaya, Asst. Librarian there.

I also thankfully acknowledge the gentleman approach and personal attention extended by Mr. Bawa, Librarian, RBI central Library, Bombay during my stay at Reserve Bank. I would like to express my thanks to Mr. P. Bhaskar Rao, Director, Department of Statistical Analysis and Computer Services, Bandra, Bombay for supplying me the data. I am grateful to Mr. B.N. Ananthasamy, Asst. Adviser, Division of International Finance, D.E.A.P. Reserve Bank of India, Central Office, Bombay for the detailed discussion, suggestions and comments on this work.

I would like to record my thanks to the staff and librarians of the following libraries for their help and permission to refer.
1. Ratan Tata Library, Delhi School of Economics, New Delhi.

2. Jawaharlal Nehru University Library, New Delhi.

5. Institute of Public Enterprises, Hydrabad.

I recollect the intellectual interactions with Dr. K. R. Sheony, Director, I.S.E.C and Dr. Abdul Aziz, my course Director for ICSSR Research Methodology Course at the Institute for Social and Economic change (I.S.E.C.), Bangalore, which were of great help to me in shaping my thesis.

I may fail in my duty, if I do not thank Dr. R.S. Dhananjayan, Dr. P. Arumugam, Dr. B. Muniyandi and Dr. V. Anbumani of Department of Economics, Bharathiyar University. They readily offered their assistance whenever I approached them for clarifications. I specially thank Dr. P. Arumugam and Dr. V. Anbumani for having permitted me to use the computer liberally.
I thank Prof. C. Annadurai and all my colleagues in the Department of Economics, CBM College who have constantly encouraged me. I do not have words to thank Mr. Narashimamoorthy, Librarian, CBM College, who offered all possible help inspite of his limitations.

The major sufferers of this research work are my wife and beloved daughters who had to forego my attention often. Their love, affection and forebearance had been the source of strength at the times of frustration and despair. The entire credit of my work goes to my wife who patiently tolerated my irritatingly late hours of reading and writing.

In this hour, I wish to record my hearty thanks to all my fellow research scholars at the Bharathiyar University for their help and assistance.

I thank Mr. Karthikeyan, M.Tech, of Infotek Computer Services, Peelamedu, Coimbatore and his team for typing out the thesis neatly and clearly.
