ANNEXURE II

1. District Consultative Committee :-

It is a forum for achieving co-ordination between banks and co-operatives and between Banking, industry and the State Government. It is also a forum for discussing the subjects of common interest and for implementing programmes for development of the district. It is also called consultative committee for banking development.

The constitution of District Consultative Committee is as under :

a) Chairman : District Collector/Deputy Commissioner/District Magistrate.
b) Convener : Lead District Manager/Lead Bank Officer.
c) Members : a) Representatives of all banks functioning in the district.
               b) Lead District Officer from the Reserve Bank of India.
               c) Representatives of all Government Departments in the district.
               d) Two or three members from among the beneficiaries of bank credit.

2. Standing Committee :-

Standing Committee of the District Consultative Committee has been set up in all districts to deal with operational problems arising in the implementation of the Lead Bank Scheme.

Constitution

a) Convener : Lead Bank Officer.
b) Members : 1. Lead District Officer (Reserve Bank of India)
             2. District Planning Officer.
3. District Level Officer from Co-operative department.
4. Heads of important Government Departments.
5. Representatives of banks having larger number of branches.
6. Representatives from District Central Co-operative Bank.
7. Representative from Land Development Bank.
8. Representative from Agricultural Refinance Development Corporation.
9. Representative from District Rural Development Agency.

3. State Level Bankers Co-ordination Committee: -

   It has been set up for each State with the designated bank as the convener. Indian Overseas Bank is the convener of the State Level Bankers Committee for the State of Tamilnadu.

4. State Level Consultative Committee: -

   This is a higher forum. The meeting of this Committee is convened by State Governments concerned and attended by executives of banks like Deputy General Managers, Assistant General Managers, etc., by Ministers and Secretaries of the State Governments concerned and the representatives of the Reserve Bank of India.

5. Regional Consultative Committee: -

   It is a still higher forum. The entire country is divided into six regions (i.e) Southern, Northern, Eastern, Central, Western and North Eastern. The Union Finance Minister presides and the meeting is attended by the Chief Executives of banks, Chief Ministers of the States concerned and representatives of the Reserve Bank of India and Government Officials.