ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Every creation on earth is an outcome of work done by an individual. My thesis is also an end product of wishes, support and hard work done by all my near and dear ones. While it is impossible to mention the names of all those who have by their kind gesture and co-operation, made possible and successful completion of this work, there is a few to whom I whole heartedly pay my gratitude, appreciation and admiration.

First and foremost I would like to thank my revered supervisor Prof. H. M. Rai, Ex-Prof. National Institute of Technology, Kurukshetra, for his immense erudition, academic brilliance and excellent expertise to guide me throughout this research work.

I pay thanks to my co-supervisor Prof. Dharinder Kumar, Chairman, Department of Computer Science & Engineering, Dean of Faculty of Engineering & Technology and Dean of Colleges, Guru Jambheshwar University of Science & Technology, Hisar, whose indefatigable effort became the source of constant inspiration throughout my present investigation which enabled me to grapple with all kind of problems to make my dream true.

I thank to my Director and faculty members of CSE department of S. D. Institute of Technology & Management, Panipat to provide the facility to complete the pre Ph. D. course work.

I would like to thank Dr. Punit Goyal, Chairman, Dr. B. K. Roy, Director (Engineering), Dr. Sangeeta Gupta, Director (Management), teaching and non-teaching staff of Computer Science & Engineering department of OM Institute of Technology & Management, Hisar for providing all kind of infrastructure support to carry out the research work.

My special thanks is for my friends who not only give me moral support but also encourage me in preparing this thesis work.

Words fail to me to express gratitude and respect towards my parents and In-laws to usher their blessing on me while completing this work.
My heartily thanks to my lovely daughters whose valuable time I snacked to complete this thesis work.

Last but not least I give my special thanks to my better half Priti Singla, who became the inspirational force to me all the time during difficulties and desperation period and helped me to complete this research work on time.

Above all, I express my indebtedness to the ALMIGHTY GOD for his blessing and kindness.
