BIBLIOGRAPHY

PRIMARY SOURCES

Short Stories

The Middle Man and Other Stories. 1988.

Secondary Sources

Connell, Michael. An Interview with Bharati Mukherjee, Jessie Grearson and Tom Grimes.

Jessie Grearson and The IOWA Review. Fall V20 1990.

Chandra, Subash. “Americanness of the Immigrants in the

Inamdar, F.A. “Immigrant Lives: Protagonists in Bharati Mukherjee’s The Tiger’s Daughter and Wife”, Indian Women Novelists.

Life, Blood, Breed and Poetry”. Ed. The Fiction of Bharati Mukherjee, A Cultural Perspective by Nagendra Kumar. New York: Atlantic Publishers,

Samir, Dayal. “Creating, Preserving, Destroying: Violence in Bharati Mukherjee’s Jasmine,” Bharati Mukherjee;
Critical Perspectives. Ed. Emmanuel S. Nelson,

Sandler, Linda. “Violence as a Device for Problem Solving”.

Sen Gupta, C. “The Broken Pitcher and the Third Eye:
Indian sensibility in Bharati Mukherjee’s
Jasmine”. Indianization of English
Language and Literature, Ed. R.S. Pathak.

212

Sushmita, Roy, "Jasmine: Exile as a Spiritual Quest". Indian

Cassette Recording