Acknowledgement

There are many people behind every creative work without the help of whom the work cannot be accomplished. The same is true in case of my thesis. Though words are often inadequate to express the feelings of heart, one must acknowledge the genuine help and support received from others during the fulfillment of a particular task. I would therefore, like to convey my heartiest gratitude to all those people who have contributed directly or indirectly in the completion of this work. Thanks to Almighty for the wisdom and perseverance that He has bestowed upon me during this research, and indeed, throughout my life: “I can do everything through Him who gives me strength.”

My first debt of gratitude must go to my supervisor, Professor Jaspal Singh, Department of Laws, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, whose meticulous understanding of the subject has been an experience worth cherishing. He helped me in fulfilling the dream of completing this thesis despite the unfavourable circumstances. His confidence and understanding of the subject filled me with new vigour and positivity.

Thanks to Professor Rattan Singh, Head Department of Laws, for his unflagging encouragement and serving as a role model to me. He provided me vision, encouragement and necessary advice for me to proceed through the doctoral program. I would also like to thanks all my teachers, who throughout my educational career have supported and encouraged me to believe in my abilities.

I also thank the staff of the main library, staff of the library of Department of Laws, administrative staff of the Department of Laws, GNDU, Amritsar, Library staff of Punjabi University, Patiala, Library staff of Panjab University, Chandigarh and Library staff of Indian Law Institute, New Delhi for their multifarious and unfettered support.

I also offer my heartiest regards to my father Mr. Prem Kumar Mehta and my mother late Mrs. Nirmal Mehta for motivating me to be true to myself always. I am also blessed with a supportive and motivating wife, Mrs. Vandana Luthra, who always remained a source of inspiration. Her unfailing confidence in me encouraged me to achieve higher goals in life. I am also obliged to my son, Aman who always enabled me to feel the best in life and provided me his great support. I am also obliged to my sisters, brother in law, niece, nephews and in-laws for their great moral support. I also extend my thanks to my friends who supported me during the completion of this work.

I would be failing in my duties too if I do not thank Subhash Computers who meticulously went through all the typing work towards the completion of whole thesis. As is obvious, the assistance for the present thesis has been drawn from various sources. I have, therefore taken utmost care to acknowledge those sources in the footnotes and bibliography of this thesis. However, anything missing due to an oversight is deeply regretted.

Once again, I express my humble gratitude to Dr. Jaspal Singh being as my guide for his words of inspiration to complete my thesis.
