ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Undertaking a research project of this magnitude is a daunting and lonely task. Although I had to travel the road alone, it is not true to say that I had no help in writing the thesis. I met many who contributed to my project in one or the other way.... I was encouraged, appreciated, criticized and discouraged time to time.... But it always added to my learning and helped me to learn and become better in every step...

I would love to mention the names of people who were always there for me... whether we talk daily or not and those who were always there for me as a life supporting system...

On the technical side, I am fortunate to have a good supervisor Dr. B. B. Singla (Assistant. Prof., School of Management Studies, Punjabi University, Patiala) who has been constructive and helpful even though he is busy with lots of activities. He is an experienced researcher and has given me both useful advice and an extraordinary amount of support around the workplace. His expert advice has always come with heavy inputs.

I am very thankful to the cooperation of the various university libraries which allowed me to use them as a source for my literature survey. I am deeply thankful to those families who opened their homes and willingly gave me their precious time.
On personal side, there is also a lexicon of acknowledgment and thanks to be made to my mother (who is no more), my father, my brother and his family, dearest wife and kids. It is to my own family that the principal thanks must go; especially to my wife for playing both the roles of mother and father during many days and nights I was busy with my research, and my children for understanding the importance of my work. Without their patience, love and support, the task would have been insurmountable.

Finally, to the one who has begun this work in me and has seen it come to fruition, Thank you.

SANJEEV KUMAR MODI