ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I feel great pleasure in expressing my deepest sense of gratitude and venerable regards to my guide Dr. K.S. Sohal, Professor of Geography for his meticulous guidance, scientific supervision, constant encouragement, constructive criticism and generous efforts during the progress of the research work.

I am extremely grateful to Head of the Geography Department, Dr. Yadvinder Singh and all the teachers of the Department, Dr. Gurinder Kaur, Sh. A.S. Matharoo, Dr. Baljeet Kaur, Dr. Shivjeet Kaur and Miss Apperdeep Kaur who helped me at various stages of the present work.

I want to give sincere thanks to Mr. Maninder Singh, Department of Geography and to all the other non teaching members of the department. I also extend my thanks and gratefulness to Mr. Lakhvir Singh, Technical Assistant, Department of Botany, Punjabi University, Patiala for their unfailing cooperation to help me for typing.

I also gratefulness to all authorities of the state of Punjab and Haryana for their co-operation and help in providing me the required data and official reports.

I have no words to express my immense gratitude to my father Sh. Rattan Singh Rana and my mother Mrs. Ravinder Rana. I also want to extend my gratitude to my loving brother Er. Rajat Rana and My sister-in-law Dr. Sanjeevna Rana and above all to my father-in-law Sh. Narinder Singh Parmar and my mother-in-law Mrs. Raksha Parmar who made me able to proceed with higher studies. Their constant enquiry of my progress encouragement and advice were towers of strength and wellspring of comfort. I owe a deep depth of love to my husband Pankaj Parmar who not only helped me but bore with our separation with patience and dignity. The innocent smile and inquisitive nature of my son Ayush Parmar is quit stimulating and refreshing which give me added strength to the compilation of this thesis.

Last but not least my sincere thanks also to my friends Ms. Pooja Rana, Ms. Parampreet Kaur Dhindsa, Ms. Rashmi Batish, Ms. Anuja Thakur and Ms. Satpal Kaur who always encourage me for my work.

RANJANA