ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

First and above all, I am grateful to God, the Almighty, for providing me this opportunity and granting me the capability to move ahead in my life.

There are many individuals that have made this thesis possible which otherwise would not be completed without their cooperation, a special gratitude to them.

My deepest gratitude and appreciation to my most respected ‘GURU’, Dr. Pardeep Kumar Jain, Professor, Department of Management & Humanities, Sant Longowal Institute of Engineering & Technology, Longowal. It is a matter of great pleasure for me to place on record my gratitude for his competent and perfect guidance and valuable suggestions which have gone a long way in enabling me to complete this thesis successfully. In fact, words can hardly convey the measure and abiding gratitude that I owe to my Supervisor who despite of busy schedules and multiple responsibilities not only provided me valuable guidance but also cultivated in me a deep passion for the research under study. He has put a permanent stamp in my memory, which I will cherish throughout my life since he has not only enriched me academically but at the same time has always given me emotional support, help and encouragement as a family member. I am also thankful to his wife Dr. Sarika Jain for her love, support, affection and blessings.

I am equally greatly indebted to Dr. R.K.Gupta, Co-Supervisor, Professor, Ex Chairperson of USOL and Ex Director of UHIMT, Panjab University, Chandigarh for his positive motivation, and most importantly, for his mentorship. I really appreciate his willingness to meet me at short notice every time despite of his busy schedule. Words of encouragement throughout my doctoral programme, his patience in dealing with my weakness and inexperience in many things and also he helped me in revising the drafts and updating the research work with his useful and scholarly suggestions and comments. Finally, my deepest appreciation goes to the most important persons in my life, my husband Dr. Raghbir Singh and my dear children Preet Heena, Jenisha and Jivitesh. Words fail to express my deep sense of gratitude to my life partner because of him I have reached this stage of my life. No words can describe what I owe to him or the kind of emotions that arise each time I think of him. He always gives me outstanding support, inspiration, uninterrupted and ever encouraging moral support, patience as well as trust enabled me to pursue my study with unfailing zeal. He is always accompanying me during the happy and hard moments to push me and motivate me. I can never forget the love and affection he has given me in tough times when I used to feel low. My daughter and younger son Jenisha and Jivitesh deserve a special thanks and gratitude for the lost childhood. Sometimes they even remained neglected due to my involvement in the studies, but they always meekly compromised over it.
