ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

During the course of this work and in the shaping of its different aspects, the insight, boundless knowledge and sympathy of Dr. (Mrs.) R. Sarojini, Reader, Department of Zoology, Marathwada University, have been a constant source of encouragement.

Prof. R. Magabushanam, Professor and Head, Department of Zoology, Marathwada University, helped me in innumerable ways. Without his helping hand many things would have remained difficult.

Laboratory facilities were very generously made available by the Principal, S.B. College of Science, Aurangabad for which I owe him thanks.

A large portion of experimental work had to be carried at Ratnagiri. Prof. Arvind Muley, Rector, Ladies Hostel, R.P. Gogate College, Ratnagiri, showed great sympathy and made hostel accommodation available to me, for which I thank him.
