ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to place on record a deep sense of gratitude to my guide and supervisor Dr. M. ROBERT, Retd. Prof. and Head of the Department of Commerce, Loyola College for his invaluable guidance. He has been my guide in the true sense of the word. At every stage of my work he offered me advice and suggestions which went a long way in completing this work successfully.

I am highly indebted to Dr. R. NARASIMHAN, Professor of Commerce, Institute of Correspondence Education, University of Madras, for all the help he rendered in the course of preparation of the Questionnaire and the planning of the thesis.

A very special word of thanks to Dr. R. ANBALAGAN, Professor of Commerce, ICE, University of Madras, for motivating me to pursue this research work and having evinced keen interest in its completion.

I am exceptionally grateful to Prof. T.S.REDDY, Dept. of Commerce, Guru Nanak College, for the useful discussions and help rendered to me in the course of my work.

My thanks are due to Dr. ANBUPAZHAM, Dept. of Statistics, University of Madras, for all the help rendered by him in data processing and analysis. I also wish to thank Prof. RAVANAN, Dept. of Statistics, Presidency College, Madras for his assistance in the technical aspects of thesis writing.
In the course of data collection from the individual investors I received support and assistance from a number of share brokers. I wish to make special mention of Mr. CHRISTOPHER of Mercantile Securities Ltd., Chennai, who spared no efforts to help me in this regard.

During the course of collection of literature for this report I have received help from several librarians. I wish to specially thank Dr. HARISH CHANDRA, Chief Librarian, Indian Institute of Technology, Madras, and Dr. CHIKKU MALLIAH, Chief Librarian, Indian Institute of Management, Bangalore.

I wish to thank Mr. THIRU MARAN and Mr. ARUL SELVAN of Students Xerox, Guindy, for all the help they have rendered to me in the printing of thesis.

I am also grateful to all the respondents to the questionnaire who have been good enough to spare their valuable time to fill up the questionnaire, which has been the backbone of the study.

I wish to make special mention of my better-half DR. MARLENE MORAIS, Reader in Commerce, Guru Nanak College, who spurred me on whenever my spirits drooped and helped me in the writing of the thesis.

Above all, I thank and praise God Almighty for giving me the wisdom and guidance to complete the study.

John Morais
