ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

With the highest reverence to Lord Krishna who preached performing honest ‘Karma’ without greed of rewards, I feel profound pleasure on being able to complete my research work well. I have always been blessed by God in each of my endeavors; my research work being one amongst them. In the name of Shri Krishna and Maa, the most benevolent and the most merciful, I take this opportunity to express my earnest thanks to all those who extended great help and support to make this research work possible.

First and foremost, I wish to express my intellectual debt and deep sense of gratitude with everlasting respect to my guide Prof. Ravinder Vinayek, Head, Department of Commerce, Maharshi Dayanand University, Rohtak and co guide Dr. Sanjay Rastogi, Associate Professor, Indian Institute of Foreign Trade, New Delhi for their effective guidance, immense cooperation, invaluable encouragements, constructive & forward thinking and proficient observations. ‘Sir’ your precious and meticulous supervision at each and every phase of work inspired me in innumerable ways. I, also wish to express my sincere thanks to Prof. Balwinder Singh, Department of Commerce & Business Management, Guru Nanak Dev University, Amritsar, Punjab, for his admirable help and support.

I am extremely grateful to the faculty members of the Department of Commerce, M. D. University, Rohtak who gave their valuable suggestions for improving my research work. I am thankful to the supportive staff members who cooperated and supported me in carrying out my work smoothly and timely. I am extremely thankful to especially Mr. Joginder Kumar who helped me tremendously in giving ‘Midas touch’ to my thesis.

I would like to express loads of appreciation to Mr. Satish Malik, Chief Librarian, M.D.U. library and other staff members who generously made available ample resources to enhance quality of the research.

I would, also, like to convey my warm thanks to Department of Commerce, M. D. University, Rohtak, ICSSR and GNBR, for organizing various workshops on ‘Research Methodology’. These workshops provided a unique opportunity of learning core aspects of research methodology and appropriate application of analytical tools & techniques. In this regard, I wish to express my thankfulness to all eminent ‘Resource Persons’ who extended unprecedented suggestions and constructive comments to shape the knowledge of researcher in right direction. Specially, I owe a deep sense of obligation to Dr. Neeraj Kaushik, Associate Professor, Department of Management, National Institute of Technology, Kurukshetra and Dr. Ajay Chauhan, Associate Professor, IMT, Ghaziabad for their kind support, and for sharing their precious time and knowledge.

I would, also, like to thank my colleague and dear friend Mrs. Seema Malik for spacing her valuable time to give many useful comments and suggestions. She motivated me a lot and boosted my confidence at each stage of my research work.

It would never have been possible to think of taking this endeavor and completing it the way it has turned up; without the active support of my beloved husband Mr. Bhavey Chopra, who shored up my efforts through day and night,. My love and affection has deepened many fold for my sons Keshav and Yajat, who supported me submissively through their patience and sacrifices which helped me in completing this challenging research work smoothly and aptly. I acknowledge a debt of gratitude that could never be repaid to my beloved parents of destiny Mr. A. V. Patharia and Mrs. Indu Patharia for their blessings. They inspired me to put rigorous efforts in my research work enthusiastically and sincerely. I also owe my deep sense of gratitude to my inlaws Mr. Dharam Vir Chopra and Mrs. Sushma Chopra for their enormous love, unconditional support, encouragements and blessings. They have proved to be the pillars of my life as they took good care of the family in my absentia whenever desired. Without the support of my family I and my work are incomplete.

Last but not the least I would like to thank Dr. Ipshita Bansal, Dean and Chairperson of Faculty of Commerce and Management, BPS Women University, who generously supported me in completing my research work by giving me due permissions and ease for carrying out my research work.

My gratitude also goes to the entire respondents who devoted their time to provide valuable information.

(Ishani Patharia)