In most of mankind gratitude is merely a secret hope for great favours.

Life is not so short but that there is always time enough for courtesy.

By continued blessings of God, Grand mother, Parents and Teachers, it affords me an immense pleasure to acknowledge with gratitude the help and guidance rendered to me by a host of people to whom I owe in a substantial measure in the completion of my research work.

It gives me great pleasure to express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my research supervisors Dr. T. Damodharam, Department of Environmental Sciences, S. V. University, Tirupati, for his cool headed, well balanced heraldic advocacy, sterilizing, stethoscopic suggestions, unfailing commitment, voracious vulcanizing vicissitudes in finalizing this dissertation to a successful one. I deem it a great privilege to express once again my profound respects, deep gratitude and sincere thanks to my esteemed teacher for his generosity towards me throughout the period of my study. His sound words of advice and unassuming and highly informed dealings will ever remain fresh in my memory.

I emote my deep sense of gratitude to Prof. G. R. K. Naidu, Head, Prof. K. Janardhanam, BOS, Dr. G.P. Maddaiah Assistant professor Department of Environmental Sciences, S. V. University, Tirupati, for their constant encouragement, guidance and co-operation during the course of work. The present work bears at every stage the impression of their wise counsel and concrete suggestions, appreciation and meticulous attention to details. It is indeed a rare privilege for me to work under their unending inspiration and indomitable spirit.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. T. N. V. K. V Prasad, Soil Scientist, and Dr. P. Sudhakar Scientist in Plant Physiology N. G. Ranga Regional Agricultural Station, Tirupati for their valuable suggestions and timely help in my work. I sincerely thank Mr.
A Word of Gratitude

Balaji, Rachagunneri, timely help in my work for the collection of samples near biomass power plant industry.

I also thank Dr. C. Suresh, Scientist in National Institute of Nutrition, Hyderabad for his encouragement during research work. I wish to place my exquisite thanks to my dear colleagues Mr. S. Suresh, N. Dinakar, Y. Uday Kiran and T. Sudharshan for their cooperation and constant encouragement.

I sincerely thank the librarians of S.V.University Library Tirupati, Central University of Hyderabad, Hyderabad and N.G.Ranga Agricultural University, Hyderabad for providing library facilities for my research work.

I express my sincere thanks to the Non-teaching staff of the Department for their help and cooperation throughout my research work.

The whole hearted encouragement, pleasant co-operation and splendid company extended by my friends G.Pushpasatish, B. Sasikalaeswar, whose love and care and unselfishness made this work a successful one.

I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to all the people involved directly or indirectly in the completion of this dissertation work.

Finally a word of appreciation goes to Star Xerox, for neat and accurate execution of the thesis.

(P.C.Nagajyothi)