Acknowledgement

It is with utmost respect, extreme happiness and overwhelming contentment that I express my deep sense of gratitude towards my supervising teacher and guide, Dr. M. Abdul Khadar, Professor, Department of Physics, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram for his inspiring guidance, invaluable academic and moral support and kind personal interest rendered during the course of my Ph.D. programme. I am deeply indebted to him for introducing me into the fascinating world of nanostructured materials and guiding me through the journey with clear vision, extreme patience, great enthusiasm and stimulating discussions.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. V. K. Vaidyan, Professor & Head, Department of Physics, University of Kerala and Dr. S. Devanarayanan, Former Professor & Head, Department of Physics, University of Kerala for providing the facilities to carryout my research work and also for their blessings and support.

I acknowledge the Council of Scientific and Industrial Research (CSIR), Government of India for the financial support provided for carrying out this research programme, first in the form of Junior Research Fellowship (JRF) and then in the form of Senior Research Fellowship (SRF).

I am sincerely thankful to Prof. Akihisa Inoue, Director, Institute for Materials Science, Tohoku University, Sendai, Japan, for providing the experimental facilities available at the Institute for Materials Science for electron microscopy and VSM measurements. I also express my utmost appreciation and gratitude to Dr. Dimitri V. Louzguine for carrying out electron microscopy and to Mr. Hirokai Fukumura for VSM measurements of a few samples used in the present study.

I wish to record sincere thanks to The Head and Staff of Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Centre (RSIC), IIT Madras, Regional Sophisticated Instrumentation Centre (RSIC), NEHU, Shillong, Department of Physics, Cochin University of Science and Technology, Regional Research Laboratory (CSIR), Thiruvananthapuram for providing the experimental facilities required for carrying out this research work.

During the course of my Ph.D. programme, I have used the library facilities available at the Departmental Library, Department of Physics, University of Kerala, Departmental Library, Department of Chemistry, University of Kerala, Campus Library, University of Kerala, Kerala University Library, University of Kerala, V.S.S.C. Library, ISRO, Thiruvananthapuram, J. R. D. Tata Memorial Library, IISc, Bangalore, Central Library, IIT Madras, University Library, Anna University, University Library, Madras University and Central Library, University of Pune, Pune. I am sincerely thankful to the Librarians-in-Charge and the staff of all these institutions for helping me to gather a handful of information from the vast ocean of knowledge. The technical support provided by the University Science Instrumentation Centre,
University of Kerala during the course of my research programme is remembered with appreciation.

A word of special thanks for Dr. G. Renuka, Professor, Department of Physics, University of Kerala for her kind personal interest, encouragement, and moral support. I am also grateful to Dr. S. R. Prabhakaran Nayar, Professor, Dr. C. I. Muneera, Reader, and Smt. K. P. Vijayakumai, Selection Grade Lecturer, Department of Physics, University of Kerala for their goodwill and encouragement.

Kind personal interest shown by Dr. G. Aruldhas, Former Professor & Head, Department of Physics, University of Kerala and Dr. K. G. K. Warrier, Head, Structural Ceramics Unit, Regional Research Laboratory, Council of Scientific and Industrial Research, Thiruvananthapuram are also remembered with gratitude.

I am grateful beyond words to Mrs. Sutheertha. S. Nair, fellow researcher for her great camaraderie, constant encouragement, moral support, goodwill and invaluable helps rendered during the entire course of my research programme.

I am thankful to all the former and present Research Scholars and Teacher fellows of our group at the Department of Physics, Dr. Joshy Jose, Shri. A. Devarajan, Shri. K. George Vargheese, Shri. P. Madhusoodanan Nair, Shri. Anwar Salah and Shri. John Jacob for their friendship and goodwill. I remember with happiness the goodwill and encouragement of my friends Dr. A. Yamuna, Shri. P. R. Prince, and Dr. S. Bindhu.

I wish to express my respect for all my teachers, without whose efforts and blessings I would never have traveled this far.
