ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

i record my heartfelt thanks to my guide Dr.B. Mohanan who was a source of inspiration throughout my research work. His keen interest in the topic, wide exposure to women’s issues, experience as an excellent academician and researcher enriched my study. I also acknowledge the relentless support that he has extended to manage every crisis that occurred during the course of my study.

As required by the guidelines for PhD research in the Gandhigram Rural institute, the draft of the thesis was presented before an invited audience that consisted of Women’s Studies experts and research scholars. When I completed my power point presentation, Honourable Vice Chancellor of Gandhigram Rural Institute Dr. T. Karunakaran put forward certain valuable suggestions for the betterment of my thesis and they were carried out accordingly. Thus the researcher could come out with new findings about subordination of women in Kerala, i record my sincere thanks to Dr. T. Karunakaran for prompting me to travel through hitherto unexplored terrains of Research and Analysis.

In connection with the research work I consulted the holdings of the Sakthi Resource Centre, Trivandrum, British library, Trivandrum, Public library, Ernakulam, Institute Of Management in Government libraries at Trivandrum, Ernakulam and Calicut. The officials in these libraries were very cordial and extended all possible help. I acknowledge their services.

Ms. M. Kamalam, Chair Person, Kerala State Women Commission, Dr. Padma Ramachartdan, former Chief secretary Government of Kerala, Dr. K Saradamomi well known writer, Dr. Jayasree, Director, Centre for Women Studies, University of Kerala were gracious enough to attend the focus group discussion in connection with my research work. I express my indebtedness to all of them.

Dr. Kamalamma, Head of the Department of Home Science, GRS has been a mentor to me in the University. Her expertise in the topic immensely helped me in enhancing the quality of my thesis. I express my heartfelt thanks to her.

Dr. Suryakanti, Director, Department of Continuing Education and Extension, Gandigram Rural Institute gave me courage and strength to face the challenges during my work. Without her timely support I would not have completed the work. I record my sincere gratitude to her.

I am extremely thankful to Dr. Sushila Kripavathy for her quick decision-making and problem solving approach in all my dealings with the University Administration wing. I also thank the office staff in the administration wing.

Dr. G. Palanithurai, Head of the Department of Political Science and Development Administration was gracious enough to share his expertise in the topic. I am very thankful to him for the encouragement and support extended to me.

I sincerely thank Mr. R. Sasidharan, former Principal, Government College Jlrur, Kerala for his timely interventions in the different phases of the study. I also thank Dr. Sivaprakasam, Reader in Statistics, Department of Applied Research Gandhigram Rural Institute for sharing his expertise in Statistical analysis.

My thanks are due to Mr. Mary John and Mr. Venkatesh, Research Scholars in the Department of Political Science and Development Administration, Gandhigram Rural Institute who helped me in various ways to complete my work.

Last but not the least I record my gratitude to the supporting staff in the Department of Political Science and Development Administration and the Librarian and Staff of the general Library of GRI
