CONTENTS

List of Cases                                      viii-xxxii

Introduction                                      1-13

CHAPTER I:                                          14-60
Unjust Enrichment and Restitution: A Conceptual Framework

1.1 Introduction
1.2 Unjust Enrichment: Historical Perspective
1.3 Doctrine of Unjust Enrichment
1.4 Theory of Unjust Enrichment
1.5 Relation between Unjust Enrichment and Restitution
1.6 Scope of Unjust Enrichment and Restitution
1.7 Doctrine of Restitution
1.8 Persons Not Competent to Contract
1.9 Restitution under English Law
1.10 Compensation by a Minor under Indian Law
   1.10.1 Compensation under Indian Contract Act
   1.10.2 Compensation under Special Relief Act
   1.10.3 Lahore High Court View
   1.10.4 Allahabad High Court View

CHAPTER-II:                                         61-94
Restitutionary Techniques under Common Law and Specific Relief Act

A. Restitutionary Techniques under Common Law
   2.1 Introduction
   2.2 Historical Background
   2.3 Common Law and Equity
   2.4 Quasi Contract
      2.4.1 Action for Money had Received
      2.4.2 Action for Money Paid
      2.4.3 Quantum Meruit
      2.4.4 Quantum Valebat
   2.5 Rescission
   2.6 Tracing and Claiming
      2.6.1 Tracing and Claiming at Common Law
      2.6.2 Tracing in Equity
      2.6.3 Contractive Trust
      2.6.4 Equitable Lien or Charge
      2.6.5 Subrogation
      2.6.6 Resulting Trusts
   2.7 Restitutionary Claims
   2.8 Restitution on Ground of Failure of Consideration
   2.9 Restitution for ‘Wrongs’
B. Restitutionary Techniques under Specific Relief Act

2.11 Introduction
2.12 Development of Law under Specific Relief Act

CHAPTER-III: 95-190
Defective Transfers

A. Mistake
3.1.1 Introduction
3.1.2 Mistake and Ignorance
3.1.3 Fact and Law
   3.1.3.1 Origins of the Distinction
   3.1.3.2 The Former Exceptions to the Mistake of Law Rule 3.1.4 The Ground of Restitution
3.1.5 Restrictions on Recovery
3.1.6 Submission to an honest Claim : Proposition 2(a)
3.1.7 Good Faith Purchase : Proposition 2(b)
3.1.8 Change of Position : Proposition 2(c)
3.1.9 What Constitutes a Mistake of Law
3.1.10 Contributory Negligence
3.1.11 Non-Money Benefits
3.1.12 Common Law
3.1.13 Statutory Recognition
3.1.14 Other Authority
3.1.15 Equity

B. Misrepresentation
3.2.1 Introduction
3.2.2 Actionable Misrepresentation
3.2.3 Rescission and Indemnity
3.2.4 Limits to the Right to Rescind
3.2.5 The Misrepresentation Act, 1967
3.2.6 Rescission Mistake
3.2.7 Common Law Mistake
3.2.8 Equitable Mistake

C. Duress
3.3.1 Introduction
3.3.2 Coercion under India Contact Act, 1872
3.3.3 Scope of Section 15
3.3.4 Essential Ingredients of Coercion
3.3.5 Coercion under English Law
3.3.6 Distinction Between English Law and Indian Law
3.3.7 Act Forbidden by the Indian Penal Code
3.3.8 Threat to Commit Suicide, Whether Coercion
3.3.9 Recommendations of Law Commission
3.3.10 Whether an Act done under Compulsion of Law Constitutes Coercion.
3.3.11 Unlawful Detaining of Property
3.3.12 Difference between Coercion and Duress

D. Undue Influence
3.4.1 Introduction
3.4.2 Applicability of English Equity Principles in India
3.4.3 General Principles: Section 16 of Section (1)
3.4.4 Parties to the Contract.
3.4.5 Special Relationship and Domination Will 3.4.6 Obtains an Unfair Advantage Over the Other 3.4.7 Clause (2) – Types Domination of Will

E. Inequality and Unconscionability
3.5.1 Introduction
3.5.2 Unconscionable Bargains
3.5.3 Concept of unconscionability
3.5.3.1 Position in United Kingdom
3.5.3.2 Position in India
3.5.4 Report of Law Commission
3.5.5 Statutory Intervention in Unfair or Unconscionable Transactions
3.5.6 The doctrine of Inequality of Bargaining Power
3.5.7 Inequality of Bargaining Power and Public Policy

F. Necessitous Intervention
3.6.1 Introduction
3.6.2 Maritime Salvage
3.6.3 Agency of Necessity
3.6.4 Principle of Necessitous Intervention
3.6.5 Requirement for Validity of Necessity
3.6.6 A Critique of the Doctrine of Necessity
3.6.7 Bailment

CHAPTER-IV: Unjust Enrichment under Indian Contract Act, 1872: An Analysis
4.1 Introduction
4.2 Theoretical Bases of quasi-Contractual Liability
4.2.1 Implied Contract
4.2.2 Unjust Enrichment
4.3 Quasi Contract in English Law
4.4 Payment to the defendant’s use
4.5 Payments made under Mistake of Fact
4.6 Payments made under an Ineffective Contract
4.7 Payments made under Compulsion
4.8 Quantum Meruit

CHAPTER-V: Unjust Enrichment under the Constitution of India
5.1 Introduction
5.2 Contracts of Lease
5.3 Limitation on Liability
5.4 Government Contract
5.5 Judicial Review of Contracts of Government or Government bodies
5.6 Government Liability in Contracts
5.7 Applicability of Section 65 and 70 of the Contract Act, vis-à-vis Article 299 (1) of the Constitution of India
5.8 Agency in Government Contract
5.9 Unjust Enrichment: Modern Approach

CHAPTER-VI: 236-256
Restitution from Public Authorities

6.1 Introduction
6.2 Nature of Restitution
6.3 Restitution Past
   6.3.1 Policy
      6.3.1.1 Constitutional Considerations
      6.3.1.2 Implications for the General Community
      6.3.1.3 Balancing Principle and Pragmatism
   6.3.2 Establishing Unjust Enrichment
   6.3.3 Determining the Ambit of the Ground of Ultra Vires Receipt 6.3.3.1 Does this Ground apply to all types of Ultra Vires Payment 6.3.3.2 Is the Ground of Restitution confined to the recovery of over paid taxes.
      6.3.3.3 Must the Claimant have Protested about the Law fullness of the demand 6.3.3.4 Restricting the right to restitution
6.4 Restitution Present
   6.4.1 The Relationship between the Ground of Restitution
   6.4.2 Limiting the Right to Restitution
      6.4.2.1 Failure to Exhaust Statutory remedies
      6.4.2.2 Change in a settled view of the Law
      6.4.2.3 Compromise
      6.4.2.4 Unjust Enrichment
6.5 Restitution Future

CHAPTER-VII: 257-265
Enrichment by Wrongdoing

7.1 Introduction
7.2 Who is Fiduciary?
7.3 Fiduciary Relationships
7.4 The obligation of the Fiduciary
7.5 Remedies for Breach
7.6 Diversion of Opportunity

CHAPTER-VIII: 266-312
Illegality and Public Policy as Defences

8.1 Introduction
8.2 Contracts Illegal at Common Law on Grounds of Public Policy
8.3 The Consequence of Illegality
  8.3.1 The Relevance of the State of Mind of the Parties 8.3.2 The Consequence where the Contract is Illegal in its Inception
8.4 Distinction between Illegal Contracts and Void Contracts
8.5 Proof of Illegality
  8.5.1 The Effect of Illegality
  8.5.2 Contracts Unlawful ‘per se’
  8.5.3 Benefit from Illegal Contract
8.6 Recovery of Money or Property Transferred under an Illegal Contract
8.7 The Concept of Public Policy
8.8 Agreements Opposed to Public Policy
  8.8.1 Agreement Opposed to Public Policy
  8.8.2 Opposed to Public Policy What is Not 8.9 Defences
  8.9.1 The scope of the prohibition of restitutionary claims
  8.9.2 Mistake
  8.9.3 Duress and Imposition
  8.9.4 Failure of Consideration
  8.9.5 Restitution Prohibited if it is Tantamount to Contractual Enforcement 8.9.6 Proprietary Claims under Illegal Transactions
8.10 Public policy precluding a Restitutionary Claim

Conclusion and Suggestions: 313-324

Bibliography: 325-338