Acknowledgement

I owe a great debt of gratitude to Dr. P. Sivaprakasam, Professor of Cooperation, Faculty of Rural Social Sciences, Gandhigram Rural University, Gandhigram. He has been resourceful in every sense. He gave his time and energy most generously. But for his sustained encouragement and scholarly guidance this study would not have been completed. Words are inadequate to express my deepest sense of gratitude to him.

Dr. D. David Raja Sekar, Professor, Department of Agriculture Economics, Agriculture College and Research Institute, TNAU, Madurai, as member of the Doctoral Committee, also guided and helped me in giving shape to this research work. I am very much obliged to him.

I wish to place on record my sincere thanks to the former Vice-Chancellors Dr. P. Pankajam and Dr. T. Karunakaran, and to the present Chairman and members of Interim Administrative Committee, who were constant sources of inspiration and encouragement.

I am thankful to the authorities of the Tamilnadu Cooperative Union for having supported the research financially under their Fellowship scheme. The Registrar, and other administrative staff of the Gandhigram Rural University were very prompt in disbursing the funds to carry out the work in time. I owe my sincere thanks to them.

It is my duty to express my gratitude to my teacher Dr. M. Joseph, Former Head, Department of Cooperation, Dr. B. Subburaj, Professor and Head, Department of Cooperation, under whose consistent guidance and encouragement I have come up in my academic pursuits. I would like to place on record my sincere thanks to Dr. B. Tamilmani, Reader, for his encouragement and support. My special thanks to Dr. S. Manivel, Reader, Department of Cooperation, for his fraternal affection and support. I am thankful to Dr. M. A. Jeyaraju, Professor, Department of English and Foreign Languages, Gandhigram Rural University for helping with the language.

My heartfelt thanks to my mentor, Dr. N. Narayanasamy, Dean, Faculty of Rural Development and Professor and Head, Department of Extension Education, Gandhigram Rural University, for providing me necessary guidance and support.
It is my duty to acknowledge the help received from the authorities of the Spices Board in Kerala, Karnataka and Tamilnadu. The Cardamom Planters Association, Bodi, Kerala Cardamom Planters Marketing Company, Kumuli, Spices Research Station, Thadiankudisai, Tamilnadu and Saklespur, Karnataka helped me in the process of data collection. I owe thanks to all of them.

I am also thankful to the Librarians of the National Institute of Rural Development, Hyderabad, Tamilnadu Agricultural University, Coimbatore and Madurai, and Gandhigram Rural University, Gandhigram, for providing me with the reference facilities to carry out the research work.

Invaluable assistance was received during the course of this study from some of my teachers and my friends. Of them the most significant contribution was made by Dr.K.Arunachalam, Deputy Registrar (Development), Dr.A.Susila Kirubavathy, Deputy Registrar (Academic), Dr.M.P.Boraiyan. Professor in Extension Education, Dr.K.S.Nakkeeran, Reader in Political Science, Dr.K.Ravichandran, Reader, in Cooperation, Mr.S.Nehru, Senior Lecturer, Dr.K.Manikandan, Lecturer, Department of Economics, Mr.R.Veluraj, Lecturer & Head, Department of Cooperation, Tagore Arts College, Pondicherry, Dr.R.Ramesh, and Mr.K.Narasappa Raju. My thanks also to my friends Mr.Sivallango, Mr.P.Kalimuthu, Mr.C.SenthilKumar, Mr.M.K.Badrinarayanan, Mr.A.Lakshmanan, Mr.Kasiraja, Mr.V.Murugan, Mr.JojiJohnPanicker. Also my special thanks to Mr.A.S.V.Sundar, Mrs.Sangeetha Vijayarajan, Dr.S.Jagadeesh, Ms.M.Umamageshswari and Ms.S.Pandilakshmi, Ms.S.Dhevisri and Ms.P.Saranya.

I have to place on record my gratitude to my parents whose constant support and affectionate interest enabled me to progress in my studies.

Gandhigram
06.10.2008.