AIM

- To study various risk factors associated with primary infertility in women residing in rural central India.

OBJECTIVES

- To determine the association between demographic, menstrual, sonographic and hormonal factors and the risk of infertility.