ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I owe immense gratitude to a number of persons and several institutions for their ungrudging help in preparation of this thesis. A reference to some of the most important among them seems imperative although limitation of space would not permit me mention all their names. I wish to record my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to my guide and supervisor, Dr. (Mrs.) Bijoyini Mohanty, Professor, Post-Graduate Department of Public Administration, Utkal University, Vani Vihar whose valuable guidance, encouraging criticism and constant help and inspiration have made the present work to come to this shape. At every stage of my work I have freely encroached upon her valuable time and received her generous help and wise counsel. My words are limited to express my deepest gratitude for her affection, understanding and encouragement.

It is impossible for me to acknowledge individually all the respondents to whom I am deeply grateful for their cooperation and positive attitude that made this study possible. I owe a great deal to the all the Faculties and Staff of the Department of Public Administration for their kind cooperation and encouragement during this study.

I express my thanks to the staff of the Odisha State Pollution Control Board, Bhubaneswar, Odisha State Legislative Assembly Library, Bhubaneswar; Odisha State Archives Library, Bhubaneswar; Odisha State Secretariat Library, Bhubaneswar; Parija Library, Utkal University, Vani Vihar, Bhubaneswar, S.C.B. Medical College Library for allowing me all their facilities to consult their valuable documents, books and relevant materials for purpose of this academic study.

I owe my gratitude to the institutional heads of the healthcare institutions I have studied. Generously, they have permitted to go through their records and activities. Without their permission this work would not be possible.

Lastly I thank my husband and all the members of my family for providing me constant encouragement and simultaneously sparing me from the usual day to day activities of the family during the long period of this study.
