REFERENCE
REFERENCES

Aruna Devy, R. 2002. Heavy metal (Cd and Pb) Toxicity in agricultural and industrial area of Pondicherry region- Their Histopathological and Biochemical impacts on

Carpenter, R. 1982. Balancing Economic and Environmental Objectives: The Question

Central Board for the Prevention and Control of Water Pollution, New Delhi, 1987 Manual for statistical analysis and interpretation of water quality data : 151 pages

Central Pollution Control Board, Govt.of India 1997, Water quality status and statistics. Monitoring of Indian National Aquatic Resources Series : 403 pages.

Central Pollution Control Board, Govt.of India, 2000. Air quality status and trends in India, National Ambient air quality monitoring series.

Central Pollution Control Board, Govt.of India, 2001, Zoning Atlas for siting of Industries based on environmental consideration: 62 pages.

Centre for Pollution Control and Energy Technology, 2002. Assessment of Environmental Impacts on the Manali Industrial Complex and the Sustainability of the Complex.: 122 pages.

Chatterjee Amit, Dipankar Das and Chakraborti, D. 1993. A study of ground water contamination by arsenic in the residential area of behala, calcutta due to industrial pollution, Environmental Pollution, ( 80): 57-65

Council of environmental quality 1982, 12th annual report of the council of the environmental quality, Washington, D.C.

Department of Agriculture, Govt. of Pondicherry, 1999. Water Resources and their Management: 35 pages.

Environmental Information System. 1996. Air quality study in Mexico City.

Indian Standard (IS: 2296). Methods of sampling and test (physical and chemical) for water and waste water. Bureau of Indian Standards, New Delhi, India.

Indian Standard (IS: 2488) Methods of sampling and test (Physical and chemical) for water and waste water. Bureau of Indian Standards, New Delhi, India.

Karunanidhi. 1979. Air pollution with respect to air pollutants such as S02, NOx and SPM in Madras city, J. Env. Biology, (10) : 157-159.

Ramesh, N., Ramasamy, E.V. and Kothandraman, R.1994. Salinity intrusion in the coastal aquifer of Pondicherry, National seminar “Clean water, great needs, greater challenges” Pondicherry Sridharan, U. 2002. First South Asian Sub-Regional Workshop towards the effective implementation of the chemicals and Hazardous waste conventions, Kathmandu: 11 pages.

Trivedi, R.C. 1999. Water Resources related problems of Gujarat State. J. Environmental Pollution Control: 19-21

