ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

In preparing this work, I am grateful to many whose knowledge and experience I have had the good fortune to freely utilize.

I sincerely acknowledge my heartfelt gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. Jagadish K Patnaik for his constant guidance and supervision. He always inspired me through his stimulating guidance, he provided me with every possible support necessary for the completion of the study.

I extended my particular thanks to Dr. R.K Satpathy, Reader Department of Political science North Eastern Hill University. Mr. Sanghmingthanga, H.Pautu, Head, Department Of Political Science, Pachhunga University College, Aizawl and Dr. C. Lalrawna, Principal, Pachhunga University College, Aizawl. Without their support it would not have been possible for me to make this far in this academic venture.

This work would not have seen the light of day without the continuous moral support and understanding from my family especially my father, my mother (Who left for her heavenly abode on October 29, 2008) my brothers and sisters, and also to Mrs. K. Lalremruati, Lecturer, DIET, Mamit. I owe them a debt of gratitude.

I am thankful to Mr. J.Rothuama, Aizawl for his continuous support in providing me a helpful materials and arranging a study trip to the three villages of the western side of Mizoram. I am also thankful to Mr. K.Lalremsanga, Aizawl for typing some parts of the manuscript with meticulous care.
