ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It was written under the insightful guidance of Dr. Padam Nabh Gautam, Associate Professor, Department of Public Administration, Himachal Pradesh University, Shimla. It is most difficult for me to find words to express the deep gratitude I feel for him. I owe him profound and sincere thanks without whose magnanimous supervision this dissertation would not have accomplished.

I am also grateful to the teaching faculty of the Department for their valuable counsel from time to time. I would like to express appreciation to Dr. Shiv Raj Singh, Chairman, Department of Public Administration for his generous advice in the writing of the dissertation.

I am indebted to the staff of Municipal Corporation, Shimla and Directorate of Urban Local Bodies for valuable cooperation and information, they extended to me essentially required to complete the dissertation. My thanks are due to staff of Himachal Pradesh University Shimla and State Library Shimla.

My grateful thanks are due to Shri. Adarsh Kumar, who was Mayor of Municipal Corporation, Shimla from the year 1986 to the year 1996, and Chairman, All India Council of Mayors for six months in the year 1996 and Member of Legislative Assembly from the year 1996 to the year 1998, for intellectual stimulation, advise and encouragement. He provided vital information and comments essentially required to complete the dissertation.

I extend my thanks to many peoples who regaled me with reminiscences of pre 1980 Shimla: Shri. Om Prakash Sood, Ex-Municipal Councillor, who spoke the texture of local politics. Shri. Durga Singh Verma, Deputy Mayor for information about Municipal Corporation, Shimla. I am also obliged to Shri. Manoj Kumar, Mayor and Ex-Chairman, All India Council of Mayor.
I owe debts of gratitude to the people who made this dissertation possible. The helps of my friends, Vijay Mahajan, Dhananjay Sharma, Gian Thakur, and Naresh Sharma has been invaluable, and for this I am deeply grateful. My grateful thanks are due to Dinesh Nautiyal and Rakesh Kumar, who made maps inserted in this dissertation possible, and equally to D. P. Singh for his help in designing these maps.

I am grateful to Mrs. Madhuri Thapa, of Global Soft Computer Services, Shimla who patiently deciphered and typed the innumerable drafts with speed and good cheer, as also to Lavesh and Miss Upasna for assistance.

I also wish to thank all those who have encouraged me all along my studies. Equally generous was the help extended by numerous other friends colleagues and respondents to my questionnaire. No words can ever express my sense of gratitude and indebtedness towards my parents regarding love, care and concern that they have felt and extended to me during the completion of this dissertation and its spontaneous manifestations throughout would a sacred treasure of my memory for ever and ever.

I wish to thank my family who have sustained me with their moral support And to my wife, Monika, who read through its many incarnation with unflagging enthusiasm, and sister “KUSUM” who has stood by me always and Daughter Maneeshana who grew, sharing my time and attention, along with my dissertation.

I offer a very special and profound “Thank You”

Lastly, My deepest thanks to my mother Nirmala, who encouraged me to complete this dissertation despite sudden demise of my beloved father “SHRI. GIAN CHAND BANTA” on May 1st 1999, who was source of inspiration. I pray to the Almighty Group to bestow peace to the departed soul.
