Acknowledgement

The task of acknowledging those who helped me in completing my Doctoral Thesis is extremely difficult because at each step of evolving myself as an academic researcher many persons taught me one or the other chapter. Although throughout my PhD period I remained in contact with those who could help me in shaping the data I collected through field-work but this work would not have been possible without the help of my supervisor Dr. Vivek Kumar. His expertise in data analysis and knowledge about ground realities have always remained an indispensable and invaluable source of inspiration for me. His minute observations and suggestions have helped me to evolve my work from unstructured data to a meaningful knowledge. I thank Dr. Vivek Kumar for teaching me lessons on ‘how to earn PhD’.

My thanks also go to Prof. Avijit Pathak whose lectures on ‘Sociology of Education’ raised the intensity of my interest in the field of Education. I am grateful to Prof Abha Chauhan for her affection and concern for me which is worthy of more than mere academic conjunction. Being my M.Phil supervisor in the University of Jammu she showed me the way to JNU and helped me to realize and explore the academic potential within me.

I convey my special thanks to Roshan Rai Baral whose association provided me the chance for long debates on ‘education and society’ and helped me in developing a deep understanding of the issue. I am grateful to Ajay Sanotra and Anil Patel for their expert help to make my thesis technically sound. My thanks are due to Shveta Sharma, Shivani Abrol, Ranjeet Sharma, Raj Gupta and Jamil kalis for showing a deep sense of concern for my academic achievements. I again extend my special thanks to Tufail Jarul, Chander Bhagat, Amit Arayan, Rakesh Saini, Rijish Raju, Sharffudin, Zia-ul-haq, Abdi Wollo, Amandeep, Rakesh Attri, Vishwajit Giri, Anil Chandhan, Jagsir Singh, Harpreet Kour, Manjinder Singh, Sushree Samal, Pradeep, Shipra, Vinod Arya, Gulam Mohammad Chowdhry, Rakesh Patel, Buta Singh, Rijish Raju, Chitraves Gautam, Sanjeev Kumar, Resham and Pranveer. All of them made my stay in JNU quite educative one and provided their help in one way or the other. I sincerely present my gratitude to all of them. I am also grateful to members of the DSA library, JNU Central Library, Teen Murti
Library and the members of the office of the CSSS for their valuable help to enrich my research.

I am deeply indebted to the ever encouraging attitude of my family members especially my late mother who did her best on her part to help me to go ahead with my aims. I cannot express the contribution of my father in my educational achievements. He helped me at every stage without losing his ever encouraging attitude.
