Acknowledgements

First and foremost, I would like to thank God for blessing me with the courage and determination with which I could complete my research.

I wish to place on record my profound gratitude to Dr. Santanu Kumar Ghosh, Professor, Department of Commerce, The University of Burdwan, Burdwan, West Bengal for his invaluable guidance and close supervision throughout the tenure of this work. He has been very encouraging and constant source of inspiration. His approach towards the research work helped me to a great extent in exploring the areas which had been unknown to me. It goes without saying that without his commitment, deep involvement, kind co-operation, and affectionate advice this work wouldn’t have been possible.

I express my profound gratitude to Prof. M. Yaugni, Prof. R. Agarwal, Prof. A. Chaterjee, Prof. A. Das, Prof. U.C. Rana, Prof. S. Das, Prof. S. Modhak and Prof. D. Raxit for their inspiration and encouragement.

My sincere thanks to Principal, my colleagues and authorities of Rabindra Mahavidyalaya, Champadanga, Hooghly for extending their kind co-operation. Thanks to my friends and research colleagues for their help and suggestion.

I feel obliged to the mutual fund managers, Association of Mutual Funds in India (AMFI), SEBI, BSE and RBI for their kind co-operation during the process of data collection. I am also thanks to libraries and supporting staff at IIM (Kolkata), Central Library (Kolkata), UBI (Kolkata) and Burdwan University for making available their splendid reading and consultation facilities.

I acknowledge my overriding debt to my wife Soma and my little son Sangvi for bearing with my long silences and absences. Soma always volitionally extended the much needed emotional support at critical junctures and the laughing face of my little son inspire me to complete the research at the earliest possible time. I also acknowledge my sincere gratitude to Mrs. Sova Ghosh for her constant inspiration and encouragement. Last but not the least, I would like to pay my regards to my parents, Mrs. Jharna and Mr. Sujoy Roy for their constant encouragement and blessings.

Date:                               (Signature)
Place:                              Subrata Roy