PREFACE

I wish to express my gratitude to Dr. Usha Bande, Senior Lecturer, R.K.M.V., Shimla, under whose guidance this thesis was completed. It is a pleasure to acknowledge the debt I owe to Dr. Usha Bande whose critical insight and precious counsel have benefitted me immensely. But for her unfailing help and constant encouragement it would not have been possible for me to complete this study.

I record my warm thanks to Dr. Bernard J. Paris, Professor, University of Florida (U.S.A.). Dr. Usha Bande introduced me to his works on Karen Horney and their applicability to literature. I am grateful to him for sending me books which have been of immense help to me. I wonder if I could have completed this task without his timely help.

I express my gratitude to Shri Surinder Kumar Ghai for sending me material in shape of books, articles and research papers, which has been of great help to me. I would fail in my duty if I do not thank Mrs. Geeta Ghai who has been very kind and hospitable during my stay with them. My deepest debts are due to my husband, Col. D.P. Gupta for providing me all comforts and time to accomplish the work. I record his constant help and guidance that made it possible for me to complete the thesis in time. Besides, in reading and re-reading the typed script, he took a keen interest and edited the typed pages meticulously.

I am also grateful to Miss Meenakshi, Librarian, Indo-Canadian Shastri Institute, New Delhi for allowing me to make use of the neatly arranged library and sending me material from Delhi and Canada.

My thanks are due to the U.G.C., New Delhi for the research grant released for this work.

I owe my gratitude to Indo-Canadian Shastri Institute; American Studies Research Centre, Hyderabad, American Centre, New Delhi, British Council Library, New Delhi, and Himachal Pradesh University Library, Shimla.

I record my gratefulness to Principal Mrs. Satish Verma, for her co-operation and encouragement.

I am grateful to Dr. B.S. Pathania, Head of English Department and Dr. Som P. Ranchan for their guidance and encouragement. They always displayed a keen interest in my work.

Sh. P.C. Sharma who assisted in typing this thesis deserves my special thanks for care and meticulousness with which he completed the work.
