Primary Sources by Anita Desai

Novels:
- Cry, the Peacock (1963), London: Peter Owen.
- Where Shall We Go This Summer? (1975), Delhi: Vikas Publications.

Primary Sources by Shahrnush Parsipur

Novels:
Primary Sources by Zoya Pirzad

Novels:

Criticism of Anita Desai, Shahrnush Parsipur and Zoya Pirzad’s Works and Other Relevant Sources

Secondary Sources:

• Hashemidaran Hassan, Eshraghi, Zohreh "Persian Literary Influence on English Literature", Islamic Azad University

• Hosseini Mahrokhsadat, Iranian Women's Poetry from the Post-evolutionary Islamic Literature to Feminism Consciousness and Expression, The Asian Conference on Asian Studies 2012, University of Winchester, United Kingdom

• Rahimieh Nasrin, "Women and Domesticity in Modern Persian Literature", University of California, Irvine.

• Reed .A. Elizabeth, "Persian Literature, Ancient And Modern", CHICAGO.S.C. GKIGGS AND COMPANY 1893.

• Wilson, Colin. (1956) The Outsider, United Kingdom: Gollancz.
Bibliography

Dissertation:

- Crowder Melissa Ann, "All of My Words: Creating Islamic Female Identity Through Iranian Literature And Film", A thesis submitted to the Graduate Faculty of North Carolina State University, May 2007

Journals and Articles:

• The Gazette, Hindi Replaces English Language in India. 22 Jan. 1965, Friday.

• Samira Saeidian, and Seyed Rouhollah Hosseini, A Sociological study of Iranian Women’s , Role in Fictional Literature in the Recent Two Decade's; in International Journal of Women Research, Vol.2 Fall 2013, PP. 59-72.

Interviews:

• Desai, Anita with Dalmia, Yashodhara. (29 April, 1997) “Anita Desai: An Interview." The Times of India.

Webliography:

• http://atheisme.free.fr/Quotes/Sartre.htm retrieved on 15/01/2011