Acknowledgements

I owe a deep sense of gratitude to my research supervisor and teacher Dr. Biswanath Das, Deputy Director, Natural Products Chemistry Division-I, Indian Institute of Chemical Technology, Hyderabad for his intellectual guidance, unfailing attention, constant encouragement and constructive editing of the thesis without which this work would not have come to light.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Dr. J.S. Yadav, Director, IICT for having given an opportunity to carry out this work in this institute.

It gives me an immense pleasure to acknowledge Prof. B. Kesava Rao, Head of the Department, BOS Chairperson, Prof. B. Syam sundhar and other faculty members of Chemistry Department, Acharya Nagarjuna University for giving opportunity of my Ph. D programme in this university.

My special thanks to Dr. J. Madhusudana Rao and Dr. S. Chandra sekhar, Head, Natural Products Chemistry Division, IICT for their kind help and encouragement.

I am thankful to NMR, Mass and Analytical Section for recording spectra and providing analytical data.

It is my pleasure to express my profound gratitude to my chemistry professor Dr. M. Bapuji for his invaluable guidance and encouragement. I express my heartfelt thanks to Dr. Mrs. Ratna Das for her encouragement. I express gratitude to my seniors and colleagues, Dr. Joydeep Banerjee, Dr. Harish Holla, Dr. K. Venkateswarlu, Dr. V.
