FICTION

NON-FICTION

"My Fellow Virginians", found in manuscript written in 1921. Reasonable Doubts, 53-67.

250

"Opening Speech of the Southern Writers Conference", speech existing in manuscript was delivered at the Southern Writers Conference, which took place October 23-24, 1931, in Charlottesville, Virginia, Reasonable Doubts, 90-98.

251

INTERVIEWS

SECONDARY SOURCES

BOOKS

Allsup, Judith, L. Feminism in the Novels of Ellen Glasgow, D. Southern Illinois University, 1974.

252

Brewer, Pat, B. Females, Fiction and the Negro Image: Attitudes Toward the Negro as Reflected in the works of Southern Female Writers of Fiction. M. Vanderbilt University, 1969.

Fruge, Mary, A. Theme and Motivation in the Works of Ellen Glasgow. M. University of Mississippi, 1970.

Gatlin, Judith, T. Ellen Glasgow's Artistry. D, University of Iowa, 1969.

255

257

Murphy, Denis, M. Vein of Ambivalence: Structural, Stylistic and Personal Dualisms in Ellen Glasgow's Major Novels. D, Princeton University, 1969.

258

_______. Ellen Glasgow – Beyond Convention, University of Texas Press, Austin, 1982.

ARTICLES

_______. “Miss Glasgow and Mr. Marquand”, Virginia Quarterly Review 17, Summer, 1941. 405-17.

______. "Ellen Glasgow: Ironic Tragedian". Saturday Review of Literature 18, September, 1938. 3-4, 14.

______. "SRL award to Ellen Glasgow", Saturday Review of Literature, December 28, 1940. 3.

______. "Her Views on Life", Richmond Dispatch, Nov.30, 1898. 5.

Clark, Emily. "Appreciation of Ellen Glasgow and Her Work", Virginia Quarterly Review 5, April, 1929. 182-91.
_______. “A Week-end at Mr. Jefferson’s University”, New York Herald Tribune Books, VIII, Nov.8, 1931. 1,2.

_______. “Ellen Glasgow”. The Virginia Quarterly Review. V, April, 1929. 182-191.

Connoly, Francis, X. “Insipid Liberalism Challenged in Great Prose”. America 65, 26 April, 1941. 77-78.

Cowley, Malcom. “Miss Glasgow’s ‘Purgatorio’.” New Republic 104, Review of In This Our Life, 1941. 441.

264

267

Mac Donald Edgar, E. “Ellen Glasgow’s Spring Tonic; Blood and Irony”. The Richmond Literature and History, Quarterly 1, Summer, 1978. 18-27.

_______. "Glasgow, Cabell and Richmond". Mississippi Quarterly 27, 1974. 393-413.

Manning Carol, S. "Little Girls and Sidewalks: Glasgow & Welty on Childhood's Promise", Southern Quarterly, 21, Spring, 1983. 67-76.

Millett, Kate. “Miss Ellen Glasgow”. Baltimore, Sun, April, 19, 1903. 7.

Rawlings, Marjorie Kinnan. “Regional Literature of the South”. College English, 1, 1940. 381-89.

272
Rodgers, Audrey, T. "Images of Women: A Female Perspective." College Literature 6, Winter, 1979. 41-56.

Rouse, Blair. "Ellen Glasgow and the Old South". Saturday Review of Literature, 35 April, 27, 1952. 27.

______. "I Remember Miss Glasgow". Ellen Glasgow Newsletter, No.6, 1977. 2-10.

______. "Women in Glasgow’s Novels", Southern Literary Journal, 14, Fall, 1981. 82-84.

Glasgow and the Southern Renaissance; The Conference at Cherlottesville. Mississippi Quarterly 27, Fall, 1974. 415-34.

Stone, Grace, Z. “Ellen Glasgow and Her Novels”, Sewanee Review 50, July September, 1942. 289-301.

*****

275