ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I would like to record my gratitude to Dr. Baiju .K.C, for his supervision, advice, and guidance from the beginning of this research as well as for sharing with me research experiences throughout the work. His conceptual clarity, deep knowledge on the subject and insightful discussions at critical stages of the work helped me to resolve many problems during the course of the research. Above all and the most needed, he provided me unflinching encouragement and support always. I am indebted to him more than that is expressed.

Mere words of thanks may not be sufficient enough to express the deep felt thoughts of gratitude to Dr. M. Kuttappan, Director of Economics and Statistics (Rtd.), Government of Kerala. His keen interest in research and lively interaction at various stages of the study has enabled me to initiate and materialise this research work. I acknowledge my indebtedness to him.

I gratefully acknowledge the expertise shared with Dr.Vijayamohanan Pillai, Associate Professor, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram for his crucial contribution for methodology and analysis, using his precious time to read the statistical analysis and gave his critical comments about it. I am grateful in every possible way and hope to keep up our relation throughout.

Dr. M. Kunhaman, Professor, Tata Institute of Social Sciences, Mumbai has been very considerate to me from the very beginning of my research work. I express my sincere thanks to him.

Mere words cannot express my unbound gratitude to Dr. John Pulparambil, Professor (Rtd.), Institute of Management in Government and Former Dean of Management Studies, University of Kerala for his advice, guidance, insightful interaction and friendly approach.

I also express my gratitude to Dr. Asha J.V., Asst. Professor Department of Education, University of Kerala and Mr. S.Shibu, Research
Scholar for going through this piece of work and giving their critical comments about the research.

I gratefully thank Dr. Jaya Kumar, HOD, Department of Statistics, Calicut University for the constructive comments on this thesis. He spared his precious time for clearing even my simple doubts about statistical interpretations.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. T.M. Thomas Issac, Former Fellow, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram who has showed very interest in the study topic and helped me by giving valuable information from his own research experiences.

I would like to thank Dr. A.K. Prasad, HOD, Department of Economics, University of Kerala for giving me encouragement and support and crucial contribution in various ways.

I acknowledge Dr. A.K. Sherief, Professor and Head, Agriculture College, Vellayani for giving me guidance and data support. I remember Dr.K.V. Joseph, who has helped me at various stages of my research.

I would also acknowledge Dr. S. Subbiah IAS, Shri.T.K. Manojkumar IAS, Shri. S.M.Vijayanand IAS, and Dr. Nivetida P Haran IAS for their willingness to share bright thoughts with me, which helped me for shaping up my ideas and research.

Acknowledgement is due to Dr. Madanan, Director of Coir Development, Government of Kerala and the staff of the Coir Project Offices in Alappuzha, Kollam and Thiruvananthapuram for providing access to their offices and for the help while conducting field work.

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to the Secretaries, Office bearers, Trade Union Leaders and the Workers of the coir co-operative societies for their sincere cooperation to reveal the facts about the functioning of the societies.
I am indebted to the Librarian and staff of the Kerala University Library for giving me all the freedom and help at the research centre. I extend my sincere thanks to staff of the libraries of CDS, Thiruvananthapuram, Calicut University, Department of Economics, Kariavattom, IMG, Agricultural College, Vellayani for their unstinting support in my research pursuits.

I express my heartfelt gratitude to the entire staff of the Institute of Management in Government, Thiruvananthapuram for giving me all the support and help without which I may not be able to complete the thesis in time.

The support, enthusiasm and feedback from my colleagues remain invaluable in this work. I would like to thank and greatly acknowledge Shri. G. Jose, Faculty, IMG, Shri. M.P. Ravikumar, Joint Secretary (Rtd.), Finance Department, Shri. K. Premarajan, Member, Kerala Public Service Commission, Shri. P.A. Joseph, Deputy Director, Department of Economics and Statistics, and Shri. V. Madhusoodanan, Deputy Director (Rtd.), Economics and Statistics.

I am indebted to all who have contributed to my effort at various stages of the research and the submission of the thesis to the University.

Finally, and most importantly, I would like to extend my sincere thanks to my wife Sheela for the encouragement, inspiration, support and help offered to me. Also I extend my thanks to my two daughters, Neenu and Kuckoo for their support and adjustments. I am grateful to my father Shri. K.P. Chellappan who was my source of energy, encouragement and inspiration to higher studies stood with me throughout my research. Above all God has showered me blessings for enabling me to achieve my goal.
