ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

It is a great pleasure for me, to get this opportunity, and therefore, I utilize it by expressing my sincere gratitude to my guide, Dr. Yashwant Gupta, Professor, Himachal Pradesh University Business School, Himachal Pradesh University, under whose able guidance and supervision this study has been carried out. In fact, no words would suffice to express my deep sense of gratefulness to him, who has been a source of constant motivation and continued encouragement throughout this work.

I pay my respectful gratitude to my parents who have been a constant source of inspiration and motivation. They successfully inculcated, in me, an involvement and attachment towards the field of learning. I am also thankful to my wife who ungrudgingly permitted me with the time spare enough to complete this work, which was all hers. I am just acknowledging, due to customary reasons, the contribution of my family members, knowing well that I would not be able to do justice with them. This is for the reasons that the moment emotions enter the scene, lexicon ceases to exist.

I am also thankful to Dr. Devendra Kumar, Dean, College of Agribusiness Management, G. B. Pant University of Agriculture & Technology, Pantnagar, at my academic unit, for having given me environment and support required to accomplish this task.

I do not know how to, but am thanking the supreme power & pray that it keeps its blessing on me and provide me with consecutive opportunities to perform such tasks.
