ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

This study would not have been possible but for the keen interest evinced and active co-operation extended to me by several people, academic as well as non-academic. At this stage, it is my foremost duty to express my gratitude and thanks to all those who have directly or indirectly helped me in the outcome of this thesis.

I acknowledge my sincere thanks and gratitude to my esteemed guide, Dr. A. Raghurama, Professor of Commerce for his valuable help and constructive suggestions at each and every stage of research work. I am extremely indebted to him as this thesis materialized only with his advice and direction.

I am grateful to the authorities of Mangalore University, especially Dr. P.S. Yadapadithaya, Professor of Commerce, for giving me lot of insights into the research work. I am also thankful to the faculty of Commerce Department and Business Administration for their active support and co-operation, and to my colleagues at TIME Business School who have been a source of inspiration and encouragement.

My special thanks are due to Prof. (Dr.) G.R. Krishnamurthy, Director, TIME Business School, Mangalore, for many kindnesses shown to me during my work.

I express my deep sense of gratitude and indebtedness to Dr. C. Kusumakar Hebbar, Department of Commerce, University College, Mangalore, for his help in taking up this research study.

I am extremely grateful to Dr. Vijay Imbanathan V for providing me lot of insights into the subject.

I express my sincere thanks to Mr. H.S. Vishwanath and Mr. H.M.C. Shastri, Mr. B.D. Karanth, Mr. H. Dundiraj Bhat, Senior Managers of Corporation Bank, the then faculty of STC, Corporation Bank, Mangalore for their valuable suggestions and advice, on training system of their bank. I owe my deep sense of gratitude to Mr. Narasimha Bhat, senior manager of Karnataka Bank Ltd., then faculty of STC, KBL for his help and constructive suggestions regarding the training practices of KBL.

The faculty members of STCs of CB and KBL and STC, Canara Bank, have extended their support and co-operation in carrying out this research work, as I remember them here gratefully.

Mr. R. Dominic, Senior Manager, Corporation Bank, Mr. K.L. Upadhyaya, Senior Manager, Karnataka Bank Ltd., Dr. Rajesh Naik, Senior Manager, Karnataka Bank
Ltd, have given me timely help by providing me with necessary information and data and I gratefully acknowledge their help. I am also grateful to Mr Kini, Senior Manager, ICICI Bank, for his suggestions regarding the training practices of the ICICI Bank.

The administration of all the three banks gave me permission to visit their branches for collecting necessary information pertaining to the study. This is time of Mr Ananthakrishna, the Chairman, KBL and Mr K Chenan Varghese, then chairman, Corporation Bank, who gave me permission to take up research on the training system of their banks. DGMs and AGMs of both Corporation Bank and Karnataka Bank Ltd, have also helped in making the research process smooth sailing. I am grateful to them all.

I would like to specially thank the respondents of all the three banks for filling the questionnaires, without whose co-operation this study would not have materialized. My heartfelt gratitude to all the managers and staff members of CB, KBL and ICICI Banks, who have directly or indirectly helped me in the completion of this thesis.

I owe a lot to the chief Librarian, Ms Bibha Ganguly, NIBM, Pune and Chief Librarian of IIM, Bangalore. My thanks are also due to the Librarians of Mangalore University, Canara Bank, Corporation Bank, Karnataka Bank Ltd, and TIME.

I am grateful to Prof (Dr) Gopal K Kadekodi, Director, ISEC and Prof Parthasarathy, for providing me lots of insights into the subject.

I am highly thankful to Mr Chitrakumar and Miss Savitha for the neat computer processing of this thesis.

My affectionate parents, Dr Shridhar and Ms Varada and parents-in-law, Mr Ishwar Bhat and Ms Kalavathi have enormously supported me in many ways. I acknowledge here the patience of my daughter Shreya and son Shamanth and the way they co-operated with me while I was writing my thesis when I had little time to spare for them.

Rightfully, my understanding and lovable husband, Dr Ganesh K., showed enormous interest in the successive completion of my work. This was very much needed by me. I can say half the credit of my work goes to him.

Finally, I wish to express extreme gratitude and indebtedness to Almighty for having given me health and energy to take up this research study.
