ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I deem it a great privilege to express my immense gratitude to my research supervisor, Prof. K. R. Sridhar, Department of Biosciences, Mangalore University, who carved both my research career and overall personality. His vast knowledge, immense day-to-day discussion, caring nature and practicality have helped me a lot to choose the right path of research for my future.

I thank the faculty members of the Department of Biosciences, Profs. M. Krishnamoorthy, M. Rajashekhar, K. Chandraeka Shenoy, Drs. Prasanth Nair, Tharavathy, Chandra and Monika Sadananda and non-teaching staff members for the help rendered in various ways during the course of this venture.

I am grateful to Dr. Alka Gupta, Scientist, CPCRJ, Kasargod; Dr. P.C. Thomas, Scientist, CMFRJ, Cochin; Mr. Lakshmipathy, Technical Officer, DCR, Puttur for stimulating discussion especially methodology part of this thesis.

I am deeply indebted to Mrs. Jayalakshmi Sridhar, Ms. Shankuntala, Mr. Manu and Madhu for the supporting approach and encouragement to keep going with my research. I am very much indebted to Dr. K.A. Anu Appaiah, Scientist, CFTRI, Mysore and his family (Dr. Sushma Appaiah, Karan and Smaran) who stood beside me during the best and worst time of my career.

With great pleasure, I acknowledge the companionship and help of my lab mates: Niveditha Atri, Ambarish Nair, Sudeep Ghate, Greesha, Pavithra, Sudeep Nagamangala, Sreelatha, Supriya and my contemporary friends (Reema Lobo, Shini Krishna, Nanna Shafakatullah, Keshava Chandra, Bhavya, Sharath Chandra, Sushanth, Shrutri, Ravi Krishnan, Sujay Raj, Vishma, Shilpa, Sana Sheikh, Soniya, Manujesh and Chetan Rao) for fun and seriousness in my task.

I am greatly obliged to my life time friends Padeyanda Santhosh Subramani and Kumbera Prajwal Poovaih for the technical assistance rendered during my field surveys in the Western Ghats. I also thank Thiam General, Harshavardhan, Harsha, Shanthi Prakash and Sathish Bhat for the timely support and help in executing my research.

Realization of this thesis would not have been possible without the moral support, encouragement, tender care and love extended to me by my beloved parents, who took a lot of concern throughout my education. Lastly I thank my wife Rashmi Karun, my son Mridang Madaiah, my brother Varun Chinnappa, sister-in-law Krithi Poovamma and nephew Dhruv Bopanna for their kind heartedness and encouragement.
