CHAPTER VI
CONCLUSION

Law in the sense of justice and moral feelings are determined by Population (Vilhelm Aubert put, therefore, it is powered by and A) "Act only by staying relatively close results can be achieved "Prevailing social norms. You need to remember is that only Creation of rights for all social evils can never be anathema. Legal They are preceded by a social reform is meaningless unless reforms.

The anxiety has become the first war against domestic violence Than by lawyers, social scientists need to use it, because More classrooms than in courtrooms. Plato was very easy He said that, while "Good people do not need laws to tell them to work Responsibly, while bad people "will find a way around the laws. Compatibility Rules will always exist as long as we achieve utopia. Objective Liberation of women to break free, the law requires more than Social taboos, the shackles of education and above all economic Freedom. Domestic violence against women is the value of Indian social structure of the system. It just can not be eliminated by Year programs and legislation, this is a political desire for change Created and needs to be encouraged. It is clear that this issue Violence against women is a far reaching effect. The strategy It also requires a multi-faceted combat. A compound Building a better community awareness and gender sensitivity, Law enforcement and women empowerment process will help

Reaches a violence free world.

These strategies will empower women, it is important to Act of violence, acts as an effective deterrent. After all, no personThen the familiar while others are likely to inflict violence More importantly, the same rights and are able to fight.

That social change is absolutely necessary that there should be Trend. Very few victims are able to take a stand against violence. Those Response is paramount that the relevant authorities With the increase must be sustained and the pair The exact range required for the maintenance of the documentation Transparency. Domestic violence cases require immediate Prevention Despite the presence of an abscess. Should domestic violence case Quickly to provide immediate prevention is handled by the court. Results will help to make a public judicial cases System more accessible. The legal reforms and court orders, can not help it must be noted that Victims of abuse. We encourage social reform, and must make
All socio-economic levels of society to provide awareness. This is a complete and comprehensive solution to the problem. Just getting Protective orders for victims of domestic abuse is not enough.

Rehabilitation and improvement is required. The government should cover Assistance for battered women, legal reform and shelters, women's rights Institutions and empowerment programs for women and awareness Police officers, medical professionals and training for judges, all Who will work in tandem to solve a local issue Violence. And a Minimum, such as appropriate training to reduce violence. And appropriate education for children is imperative.

To break the cycle of violence, research should focus on Deconstruction and programmers gender norms that fuel violence, conflict, violence and the promotion of alternative means of enormous social, economic and health impact assessment.

Responses to Domestic Violence marital home in gender relations need to address the issue of acceptance of violence as a symptom. Standards of acceptability of violence is broken, unless women experience physical and psychological violence will continue. Greater access to economic resources and education for women within marriage are more options for conflict negotiation are important pre-conditions.
The PWDVA Act certainly comes as a whiff of fresh air. Women in pain scores. This is a controversial question, however, is how Effective laws will be followed in letter and spirit? What Women will come forward with a complaint against her husband. Background lurking danger of ending their marriage?

Related Terms: The private lives of individuals are difficult to implement. Most women Complaint against her husband or his family will shy away.

Fear of bringing a bad name to the family members. No court can

Husband and wife live together, making love and showing affection.

However, the conflict does not end here.

Domestic violence, a violation of women's fundamental rights, is considered an ecological point of view must be seen.

Critical understanding of the causes of domestic violence domestic violence prevention strategies and healthy, non-violent family composition must include a vision. Women's "right to housing" and "property and inheritance rights," and domestic violence prevention critical to any strategy is the most basic.
The following points need to be emphasized:

- Estates and the importance of social support to make a significant difference in the incidence of domestic violence.

- Non-acceptance is critical to the practice of family violence as intergenerational transmission of violence is reduced.

- Male attitudes and society's attitude to domestic violence change. Since prevention fundamental changes attitudes and behavior need to be passed, it will face resistance to change social and individual.

- Support structures of both inchanging attitude can help the family and from NGOs, women's self-help groups, etc., inside and can help women acquire immovable assets. Creative community involvement, shared responsibilities, and power and control, and for women with a collective goal to subscribe challenge patriarchal assumptions, the calls to action.

Prevention of Domestic Violence Prevention at the national level to create a long-term priority for the public and government are dependent on the level of commitment, and a consistent, co-ordinate, and to establish an integrated approach for each community. Given the pervasiveness of domestic violence, domestic violence, zero tolerance, the perils of a national policy is needed.
No more silence about violence it is necessary to develop the notion of Our girls and women. Without waiting for the long-cherished We have to patriarchal attitudes, our girls and women's empowerment They can cope with the challenges that the appropriate coping strategies Life boldly and suppress violence, deadly stick of patriarchy. Girls their identity, must be able to find their place Patriarchal structures and their characteristics between violent. The concept of physical space, intellectual space, psychological His place as one of the components of emotional space and workspace And expansion of a body in a safe estimate of their relationship, Interest and increase the safety of one's deserved.

Life skills education program should be essential components respectively. Liberation and empowerment is the need of hour. Men and women, all women should be made aware of their rights as human rights, not only on this earth to live a perfect life has equal rights. Legal literacy to protect the basic human right to live in a patriarchal society, a woman is required to be a minimum.

"The law has failed to respond to the changing needs of society, the Then either stifle the development of the society and would choke her Society is vigorous enough to progress or will cast away Its growth is in the law, the law must So be on the move constantly adapting themselves to rapid Social change and lag behind." ---- Justice Bhagwati.
Freedom from violence in the private domain, the revolutionary law is still a distant dream for women in the local relationship remains. Has a long way to go, to plug the many loopholes and PWDVA law to carry out several actions before the weapon can be a real problem for women.

Keep abreast of the society or the social status quo is not the role of the state to stand empty. State is also responsible for the promotion and guidance. The law does not need to be restricted to articulating the current situation.

The end of the law, rather than a tool of social change. What is required in order to implement the law in its true spirit is a desire and sensitivity. Women need to provide justice to the new interpretation of the provisions of the PWDVA.

Gujarat PoojaChauhan's case requires a special mention. Frustrated by the police action, he walked the streets half-naked Disregard for the law enforcement agencies to draw attention to Rajkot His situation. And finally worship filed under the PWDVA Works.

He has found some relief under the law. Worship today has become The law is a source of inspiration for other women wanting to use. It Women PWDVA Act specifies that instead of using It rather than being, providing direct access to the courts as 498A
Police rely on. The Act provides relief to many of them The court concerned can result in reduced levels of harassment and Injury.

Today is the overemphasis on rights. Instilling a sense of responsibility among the young generation of the time required.

Education and communication are two main methods for teaching people About domestic violence and to make them more important Such as violence against human values always understand that Rights. Women and girls need to learn to recognize that violence In fact, it is not acceptable to them and that is a crime against Ways and means to escape violent situations. Men and boys need It will not recognize that violence against women is Socially or legally tolerated.

Clearly, implementation and behavioral changes such as the long take Time to come through. It is imperative to reach out to people Especially young people and their rights and make them aware of For the peaceful existence of all their duties as members of the community.

It needs to be a significant step in the associationCombating all forms of violence in men and women Out.
