ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I wish to record my profound sense of gratitude to my supervising teacher, Dr. R. Vasanthagopal, Reader, Department of Commerce and Research Centre, The Cochin College, Kochi, without whose able guidance and expert advice, this thesis would not have appeared in its present form. I am deeply indebted to him for the earnest interest he has shown in the completion of my work.

I am very much obliged to the Chairman, Kerala Agricultural Income Tax and sales Tax appellate Tribunal for giving me permission to do research work as a part time scholar.

I am grateful to the Principal, The Cochin College, Kochi for giving permission to do research in the Centre and providing all the necessary facilities for the successful completion of this work.

I am grateful to Sri. K. Venugopal, Member (Accounts) and other colleagues in the Sales Tax Appellate Tribunal and colleagues in the Department of Commercial Taxes, Government of Kerala, particularly Sri. N. C. Chacko, Deputy Commissioner, for their valuable assistance and proper advice. My sincere thanks also go to the office staff for their cooperation and timely assistance.

I remember with gratitude the VAT officials, manufacturers/traders and consumers who have given proper response while collecting data.

My sincere thanks to the librarians and staff of various libraries at Centre for Development Studies, Centre for Taxation Studies, University of Kerala, British Library, Thiruvananthapuram, Cochin University of Science and Technology, The Cochin College, Kochi, University of Calicut, Calicut, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, The Institute of Chartered Accounts of India, The Institute of Company Secretaries of India, The Institute of Cost and Works Accounts of India, Ernakulam, Indian Council for Social Science Research and National Institute of Public Finance and Policy, New Delhi, for making available to me the required materials essential for the study.

I am also indebted to Sri. R. Krishna Iyer, Sri. Saju K. Abraham, Chartered Accountants, Ernakulam, S. Anil Kumar, Sri. K. N. Sreekumar, Advocates, High Court of Kerala, for their expert advice connected with the study.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. T.N. Sugathan, Director, Centre for Survey Research and Management Services, Ernakulam, for his advice in the application of appropriate statistics in my thesis. I am also grateful to Prof. N.K. Vijayan, Dept. of English, Maharajas College, Ernakulam for going through the manuscript and for the suggestions.

Thanks are also due to Ms. Chinnu, EDP Centre, Kochi for the timely and accurate typing of the final draft.

Finally, I wholeheartedly record my indebtedness to my wife Pamela and daughter Meera who offered inspiration and support in abundance, forgoing the delightful moments of togetherness and affection during the period of my research.
