ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Words fail me when I yearn to depict my profoundest feelings of gratitude for the people who have rendered invaluable help during the course of my thesis. Yet, I intend to make a sincere effort in portraying my deep sense of gratitude in the form of words.

I thank Pondicherry University and Sri Aurobindo School of Eastern and Western Thought for housing me as a research student and providing me with all facilities. I remember with gratitude, Dr. Earl McCormac, formerly Scientific Advisor to the Governor of North Carolina, for his magnanimity in providing me financial assistance which was of great help in tiding over the monetary crunch. I also thank the Indian Council of Philosophical Research, New Delhi, for awarding me the JRF which kept away the nagging sensation of financial instability.

In the days when role models are becoming rarer and rarer, I had the privilege of being shaped by one of the stalwarts, Prof. R. Balasubramanian. He was a Guru and not a mere teacher to me. He ironed out the rough edges by taking interest even in the minutest of the details.
It is my great fortune that I was admitted under the tutelage of Dr. K. Srinivas. It will not be an exaggeration if I suggest that he spent more sleepless nights over my thesis than myself. He bore into each and every point of my thesis leaving nothing to chance. He made me write and rewrite and he was bent upon pointing out my mistakes so that I could root them out. I express my gratitude from the bottom of my heart even as I know that it is not enough for, some gestures cannot be repayed.

I express my sincere thanks to Dr. V.C. Thomas, Prof. T.B. Siddhalingaiah, Dr. B.R. Shantha Kumari, and Dr. Veena Arora for being a constant source of encouragement.

My special thanks are also due to Prof. C. Ramaiah, Prof. K.R. Balasubramanian, Prof. T.N. Ganapathy, Prof. A. Venkatesan, Prof. S. Mohan (Warden, Pondicherry University Hostels) and Dr. A. Ramaswamy for giving valuable and encouraging suggestions.

I have to express my heartfelt thanks to my (step) sons, A. Ashok, R. Stephen, S. Prakash, N. Srinivasan, S. Rajesh, A. Somasundaram, and M. Dharmaraj, for helping me in all respects.
I would like to thank my (Pondy) brothers, D. Isreal, U. Rengaraju, P. Sudarsan, and P. Arunachalam, and my friends, E.J. Manimaran, S. Kanagavel and M. Govindaraju, for their kind help.

I remain indebted to my divine mother Soorammal, whose grace and compassion enthused me during the course of my work. I have to thank my elder brothers, P. Subbiah, P. Saduragiri (Retd. Indian Army Officer), and P. Paramasivam, my sisters-in-law, their sons and daughters, and my uncle, A. Guruswamy, for being a constant source of inspiration and for standing behind me.

Last but not least, my heart is full of gratitude to Shri M. Vallathan, P.A. to Controller of Examinations, Pondicherry University and to the staff of Rank Computers, Ms. M. Calaimany and Mr. B. Magesh, Pondicherry, for their neat typing of the manuscript.
