Acknowledgement

The work presented in this thesis would not have been possible without my close association with many people who were always there when I needed them the most. I take this opportunity to acknowledge them and extend my sincere gratitude for helping me make this Ph.D. thesis a possibility.

Firstly, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor Dr. Roopa Mathur for the continuous support of my Ph.D study, for her patience, motivation, and immense knowledge. Her guidance helped me in all the time of research and writing of this thesis. I could not have imagined having a better supervisor and mentor for my Ph.D. study.

I would like to thank the Department of Psychology for helping and motivating me during the tenure of my research. A special thanks is due to Dr. Bhavana Arya, for her sincere encouragement and support.

I would also like to thank those students who obligingly and patiently gave responses on the questionnaire.

Finally, I acknowledge the people who mean a lot to me, my parents, Ramila Sharma and Rajesh Sharma, for showing faith in me and giving me liberty to choose what I desired and for the selfless love, care, pain and sacrifice they did to shape my life. Also I express my thanks to my brother Tanay, for his support and valuable prayers.

My heartfelt regard goes to my father in law Ashok Bhargava, and Brother in law Kunal Bhargava for their love and moral support. Thanks to my mother in law
Sushma Bhargava and sister in law Antima Bhargava for their dedicated efforts which contributed a lot for completion of my thesis. I would also like to thank my nephew Maanit Bhargava for making me smile in difficult times.

I owe thanks to a very special person, my husband, Pranjul Bhargava for his continued and unfailing love, support and understanding during my pursuit of Ph.D degree that made the completion of thesis possible. He was always around at times I thought that it is impossible to continue, helped me to keep things in perspective. I greatly value his contribution and deeply appreciate his belief in me. I appreciate my baby, my little angel Ditya for abiding my ignorance and the patience she showed during my thesis writing.

I would like to thank my friends, for their support and generous care throughout the research tenure. They were always beside me during the happy and hard moments to push me and motivate me.

I thank the Almighty for giving me the strength and patience to work through all these years so that today I can stand proudly with my head held high.
