ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Completion of the research project is probably not the end of the journey but a ‘start’ to delve into the inquisitive world. In this journey, I had the fortune to meet some wonderful people around, whose encouragement made it possible to compile this work and made it an unforgettable experience. Foremost, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to my research mentor Dr. Sadhana Sathaye for the continuous support that she has provided to me at both professional and personal levels. With the tremendous zeal, her commitment towards the work and the strong command she has on the language and the subject, served as a keen source of motivation to me not just at my doctoral level but also during the undergrad period as I reminisces those yesteryears that I spent in her company.

Besides my advisor, I also like to thank the Director, Prof. (Dr) G.D. Yadav; the HOD of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Technology Department (Now-UGC-CAS), Prof. (Dr). P.V. Devarajan and other teaching staff members including Prof. P.D. Amin, Prof. Patravale, Prof. Akamanchi, Prof. Laddha, Prof. Vavia, Prof. Mariam and Dr. Chaturbhuj for their timely encouragement and invaluable suggestions. Special gratitude to Prof. A.B. Patwardhan from Chemical engineering dept; Prof. Kerawalla; Prof. Bhanage from Chemistry; Prof. Bhate, Prof. Sekar from Dyestuff; and Prof. Shukla, Prof. Teli from Textile and Fibre processing departments. I convey my heartfelt thankfulness to ICT, especially for conferring upon me the ‘Abhyankar award’ thrice for presenting our research papers in various international conferences.

I take this opportunity to sincerely acknowledge UGC-SAP, New Delhi for providing me the financial assistance and the necessary contingency that gave me the necessary backing to carry out my work. Nevertheless, I am also grateful to DBT for funding me with the travel assistance for attending and presenting the research paper at the prestigious EFNS conference held at Budapest, Hungary in 2011.

In this midst, I also appreciate the priceless support provided by Poonam Daswani, FMR, Worli, Dr. Avinash Bhisey, Dr. Indap and Prof. Muzamil from US. My deep reverence to Prof. Phadnis (both Sir and Madam) for their moral support and encouragement.

My warm appreciation to my fellow SSS labmates including Rahul, Jayant, Gauresh, Sachin, Pooja, the trios - Divya, Ruffi and Pankaj, Sagar, Manali, Aditi,
Vikas for the stimulating discussions and in providing the amicable culture in the laboratory. Besides this, I like to convey my special gratitude to Dr. Valeria Sajin from Hospital Erasme, Brussels, Belgium for the harmonious friendship that I share with her. Also, I thank the Lab interns (Swidel, Romila), my colleagues and friends from other departments primarily the pharma, textiles and the dyes including Galvina, Manasi, Prashant, Pramod, Sonali, Arundhati, Mahesh, Sunil, Nutan, Anisha, Anuya, Dalpathi, Vikas, Priyanka, Milind, Sachin Gondhalekar, Rajashree, Jayesh, Deepavali, Shankar, Dyaneshwar, Harita, Leena, Nilam, Vilas, Manjiri, Abhinav and others.

This work would not have been completed without the cooperation of all the supporting staff members of ICT including the librarian-Lokhande Sir, Khamkar Madam, Vanita, Madhuri from IPC, Chavan Madam, More Sir, Bhavsar Madam, Anushka Madam, Patil Madam, Raul (Abba), Sadhana Dhingankar, Mahindra (animal house), Gavtare, Jadhav, Yogesh, Sahu, Rana, Anita, Mhatre, Chile (the Lab assistants), Kharat, Borade, Krishna, Kiran and Poddar.

In particular, I am thankful to Mr. Vaibhav Karkare from Kamud Pharmaceuticals and Ms. Rathore from Inga labs for providing me the gift samples of probenecid and bromocriptine respectively.

I am extremely indebted to Dr. Chaudhary from Haffkine’s for histopathological studies carried out at his premises. In addition, I am grateful to Dr. Fulzele and Dr. Iyer from BRNS for some constructive ideas that they gave during the start of my Ph.D days. I extend my heart-felt thanks to Dr. Thite from Anchrom Laboratories for the HPTLC work that I carried out for my work.

Yes, of course, the beautiful flora in the campus of ICT has always been invigorating to me and the positive aura that exists in scholarly environment of ICT is simply enough to get charge up with some brilliant ideas.

Last but not the least, I would like to pay my high regards to God almighty, my family, my parents (Aai), brother (Abhijeet), my husband (Dr. Harsh) and my mother-in-law (Dr. Leelatai Ajgaonkar) for supporting me at the crucial stages of my life. I owe a lot to them. Yes, pardon me God for the animals that I sacrificed during the course of the project work.

Besides this, several people have knowingly and unknowingly, helped me in this successful completion of this project. A sincere acknowledgement to all of them.
