ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

It is a matter of deep pleasure to bring out this investigation to see in the light of the day. It often happens that beginning of something to be explored upon, at first it seems very difficult, specially when the way is not familiar. While getting this task difficult to accomplish I set down benighted with my arms folded and despair of accomplishing it. The Almighty gave me courage to guard my thoughts. Instantly, to my sheer luck Dr. Gita Singh, Associate Professor, Department of Education, JJTU Rajasthan came to my rescue, as my Guru, Guide and Supervisor. I have no hesitation in admitting that without Dr. Gita Singh’s scholarly guidance, encouraging attitude throughout this thesis work cordial support in leading me almost by the hand I can not be able to perform my work properly.

Next to them, all the respected principals and the teachers of the secondary schools of Varanasi and Chandauli District, as they have been subjects of my investigation. I am much grateful for their co-operation and courteous behaviour in letting me to collect the data, in spite of their busy schedule. In that journey by the gracious support and work I was blessed to have the blessings of my respected father Sri Pyare Lal Tiwari, and mother Smt. Savitri Devi. I am conveying my special thanks to Dr. A.K.Singh, Assistant Professor, Faculty Of Education, Banaras Hindu University and Minakshi Biswal, Assistant Professor, Department Of Education, JJTU,Rjasthan who proved to be the most important pavement of the ladder that I was trying to ascent.

I am also obliged to my friends Mr. Ashok Kumar Singh, Ajaya Kumar Singh, Sanatosh Kumar Singh, Lawkush Pandey, Sabbix Patel and Mr. Amarjeet Yadav, who not only inspired me but also supported me whenever I become nervous. I am also indebted to Mr. Ashutosh Kumar Singh, Director,Maa Khandwari P.G.College, chahaniya, Chandauli, for her full co-operation in this research work.

I am also thankful to my relatives and friends who helped me from time to time in my efforts to complete the present work.
