ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I wish to express my sincere gratitude and deep sense of obligation to my supervising teacher, Dr. G. Devarajan, Professor and Head, Department of Library and Information Science, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram. His valuable guidance, meticulous supervision, constructive comments and continuous encouragement directed me to what I believe has been a successful end.

I would also like to acknowledge colleagues, both former and present, especially Sri T. K. Subramoni, Manager, British Library, Thiruvananthapuram, Dr Ravisankar S. Nair, Assistant Professor, SCERT Kerala and Dr. T. V. Bindu, for their timely support for which I shall always be obliged. I am indebted to Sri K. Sankaraiah, Sri S. Parthasarathy, Sri R. Sivakumar and Dr. M. Ishwara Bhat, all from the British Council, who were instrumental in my pursuit on the subject.

Thanks are also due to the librarians and scientists in charge of information systems of the institutions covered as well as respondents from user's side for their active cooperation without which the study could not have been completed. I can never be sufficiently grateful to Sri P. Vijayakumar (Women's College), Smt Khyrunnisa (All Saints' College), Dr Maya Dutt (Institute of English, University of Kerala), Smt K Lathika (Librarian, Rajiv Gandhi Centre for Biotechnology), Sri Sudheendran (Librarian, College of Engineering, Trivandrum), Sri Sreekumar (University Library, Thiruvananthapuram), Sri Eldho Joy (Librarian, LBS College of Engineering, Poojappura), Smt Sindhu S. Nair, Maya S, Sri K. P. Sadasivan (Head, Library & Informatics, Regional Research Laboratory (CSIR), Thiruvananthapuram), Sri N. Parameswaran (Former Deputy Librarian-in-charge, Kerala University Library), Smt. Rema Devi Pillai, Sri Pushpahasan and my son's friends, Sri Hussain Ibhaam, Sri Karunakaran T. K. and Ms. Lekshmi Dinachandran. They did most of the footwork, helping me in getting the questionnaires to and from the respondents and helping me tabulate some of the findings.

I am also grateful for the professionalism exhibited by Sri Saju Thilakan and Sri Johnny George in the publishing of this thesis. They made a difficult task easy.

I can never thank God enough for the wonderfully supportive family He has given me: my parents, who have always believed in me; my husband, Sri V. R. Ramakrishnan, who suffered without complaint for the entire period while I prepared the thesis and who was a constant source of strength and support for me; my children, Sudha and Sreeram and Rajesh, my son-in-law, for their unshakeable faith and willingness to help with whatever I wanted. God and they made an impossible dream possible.
