Acknowledgments

Certain dreams are such which you never see for yourself but someone else sees for you. Achieving such dream is like a completion of full circle of life and any person who helps in achieving them cannot be thanked, as thanks is just a formality while the feeling of indebtedness towards them is for life. The researcher here is just trying to do the formality as she cannot actually express her gratitude in words to the people who helped her achieve this dream of her grandfather.

Above all, the researcher bows her head in front of the Almighty God who gave her the opportunity to fulfil her grandfather’s wish. Along with it the researcher thanks the god for the health, mental stability, emotional support which helped her do her doctoral research.

Sincere thanks to Prof. Aditya Shastri, the Hon’ble Vice Chancellor, Banasthali Vidyapith for his kind acceptance of the application and permitting me to enrol into the doctoral program.
