ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

This research has been kept on track and been seen through to this stage with continuous support, encouragement and motivation of numerous people. At this juncture, I would like to grab the opportunity and thank all those people who made this thesis possible and gave me an unforgettable experience to me.

First and foremost, I would like to express my deep sense of gratitude to my guide and supervisor, Dr. Viral Bhatt, Director, SAL Institute of Management Ahmedabad. This work would not have been completed without his guidance. I overcame many difficulties and learned a lot. I do know the busy schedule he is having but whenever I was stuck in between the research, he extended his support each and every time. He is like a banyan tree to me whose aerial roots gave me the freedom to swing in the space within the subject, without letting me fall.

My sincere thanks go to my previous supervisor Dr. V. K. Sapovadia, who helped me to initiate my research. He became my torch and showed the path of research when I was stuck in the dark. Inspite of his assignment out of India, he was just a mail away and solved my queries immediately.

Any roof could not stand without its pillars. Similarly my DPC members Dr. S. O. Junare and Dr. Narayan Baser are like pillars of my research. I heartily thank both of them for their continuous support. I learnt from them how to be down to earth and humble though how much higher position you are in. Very special thanks to foreign Co-supervisor Dr. Sebastjan Strašek for his valuable insights.

I also acknowledge Honorable Prof. (Dr.) Navin Sheth (Vice Chancellor), Dr. R. K. Gajjar (Director & Dean Ph.D. Section), Dr. N.M.Bhatt (Dean, Ph.D. Section), Mr. J.C.Lilani, (I/C Registrar), Ms. Mona Chaurasiya, (Research Coordinator), Mr. Dhaval Gohil, Ms. Rajni Bhandari and staff members of Ph.D. section for their assistance and support. My special gratitude to Ms. Avani Shah and all my co-research scholars for their continuous encouragement.
I would like to thank all the three Microfinance Institutions and their heads: Mr. Divyang Bhatnagar of Saath Co-operative, Mr Bhadresh Raval of Prayas Organization and Smt. Kashyapi of Sewa Bank for making all the necessary arrangements and offering me opportunity to complete my data collection. I extend my thanks to Akashbhai of Saath Co-operative, Amithbhai of Prayas Organization and Bhumika Mam of Sewa Bank, for providing all the necessary organization and financial information of their respective institutions and arranging my field visits. My vote of thanks to all the field officers of Saath Co-operative, Unit manager, clusters coordinators of Prayas Organization and Banksathi, handholders of Sewa Bank for their tremendous co-operation during field visits. At last, I want to thank all my respondents for their readiness and co-operation when I interacted with them at the time of data collection.

My special thanks to Dr. Vishakha Pandit, Manager, Saath Co-operative, for her scholarly guidance, valuable suggestions and constant encouragement in my research work. Though we have formal relation, she shared her personal experience on how to deal with difficulties at every stage of research, without her help this work would not take this shape.

I would like to thank Prof. Jigar Nagvadia (Assistant Professor, SAL Institute of Management) and Dr. Kaushal Bhatt (Assistant Professor, G.T.U.) for their guidance and support on plagiarism check of the report.

I acknowledge my sincere thanks to my mother-in-law Smt. Ramilaben Mehta for always giving me freedom to choose my path. My special thanks to my sister-in-law Urvashi Mehta, for always encouraging and supporting me to meet all the deadlines of reviews by taking care of young Dhairya.

No words to express my deep sense of gratitude to my adorable parents Smt. Hina Parekh and Shri Mukul Parekh. Their endless love, words of encouragement and blessings enabled me to shape and pursue my dream. I also thank my dearest sister Pooja Malani, for her constant love and care throughout this path.

Dhairya, my son, came into my life when I was stuck in my research. He completed my life and gave me a reason of my presence. His constant presence motivated me to continue my research. At an age of three, he every time says in his innocent language ‘Mimi write numbers’ (mummy, please continue your work). Whenever I am burdened with my work, he provides an endless enjoyment and cheer to work, to freshen up my zeal for work.
Last but not the least; I am totally obliged to beloved husband Ruchit Mehta for his splendid support, love and care. There were many times when I had decided to quit the research but only due to his motivation, I regained energy to pursue it. He always asked me about my research progress and inspired me to finish this. Every single day he encouraged me to pursue research and without his presence it was impossible for me to take even a single step further in research. He too has travelled entire journey of research along with me and without him I can’t imagine myself to complete this journey.

Bhoomi Parekh