ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

I am deeply indebted to Dr. S. Harikumar, Reader, Dept. of Economics, Pondicherry University, Mahe under whose supervision I have completed this study. Inspite of his tight schedule at the Department, he was the constant source of encouragement, guidance and help throughout the study. Words can seldom fully convey my gratitude, reverence and sincere thanks to him, whatever he has done for me so kindly.

My sincere thanks are due to Dr. P. Ibrahim, Professor and Head, Dept. of Economics, Pondicherry University, Mahe for his advisory involvement in this work.

I express my sincere gratitude to the office manager C.M. Sreekala and other staff members K.M. Vijayaraghavan, M.P. Preman, Stella Fernandez of the Dept. of Economics, Pondicherry University, Mahe.

A fellowship under F.I.P scheme of the U.G.C. has also helped to bring the study within the realm of possibility. I am obliged to them.

I am thankful to Dr. D. Narayana, Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, Dr. B.A. Prakash, Professor, Dept. of Economics, Kerala University, Dr. K.T. Shenoy, Professor, Dept. of Gastro Enterology, Medical College, Thiruvananthapuram, Dr. V. Ramankutty, Epidemiologist, Health Action by People, Thiruvananthapuram, Dr. T.V. Shekar, Institute for Social and Economic change, Bangalore and Dr. T.P.M. Abdul Fareed, Farook College, Kozhikode for their valuable suggestions and help rendered to me.

I am indebted to the staff of the following libraries and institutions for providing me access to their resources - Centre for Development Studies, Thiruvananthapuram, University of Kerala, Thiruvananthapuram, the Madras Institute of Development Studies, Chennai, the Connemara Public library, Chennai, Institute for Social and Economic change, Bangalore, the Medical College library, Thiruvananthapuram and Kozhikode, the University of Calicut, Thalipalum and Kannur University, Kannur.

My sincere thanks are due to the Municipal Secretary and other office staff of the Municipal Corporation, Thalassery.
My heartfelt gratitude to my wife B. Sandhya who was the main source of strength and inspiration behind this endeavour. I also acknowledge with a deep sense of gratitude the encouragement received from my parents and also from each and every member of my family.

Last but not least I would like to record my thanks to my colleagues and well wishers. I express my thanks to all respondents in the urban slum and urban areas of Municipal Corporation, Thalassery without whose cooperation I would not have completed this study.

I wish to express my sincere thanks to Mr. Thanveer, Ms. Saritha and Mr. Azeez of Print O Fast, Bank Road, Calicut for the neat and prompt execution of the printing work of the thesis.

Finally with all my earnestness, sincerity and love, I thank 'God Almighty' who has made many impossible and possible in life.
