ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I gratefully acknowledge the help rendered by several institutions in the completion of this work. I owe a debt to the Vice-Chancellor and the Department of History, Maharishi Dayanand University, Rohtak, for allowing me nearly two years of leave free from teaching duties. To the Jawaharlal Nehru University, Indian Council of Social Science Research, and Indian Council of Historical Research, I wish to express my gratitude for the generous financial assistance given at various stages of this research. I owe my thanks to the National Archives of India, Maharashtra State Archives, West Bengal State Archives, Archives of Contemporary History, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Jawaharlal Nehru University Library, Nehru Memorial Museum and Library, Railway Board Library, Railway Bhavan, and the National Library, Calcutta for granting permission to consult the material in their care.

During the course of this research I have accumulated scores of debt which I owe to my teachers at the Centre for Historical Studies, friends and a large number of railwaymen, without whose assistance and encouragement this work would not have been possible. I owe a special debt to Professor Bipan Chandra, my supervisor, for giving continual encouragement, critical guidance and for providing intellectual stimulus through a creative and lively discourse. Though the arguments and emphases are my own, as also the errors, my discussions with him and his probings spurred me on to pose new and often difficult questions. Some of the general formulations outlined in this research evolved during the course of discussions with fellow researchers in the fortnightly Friday seminar organized under the aegis of Prof. Bipan Chandra. With great pleasure I wish to express my gratitude to Prof Chandra and my fellow researchers for the assistance rendered. Gladly I wish to recall my debt to Dr K.N. Panikkar, my teacher since undergraduate days, for his continual interest in my work, and for the helpful suggestions given for its final completion.

Over the course of years, I have benefitted greatly from my discussions with Jairua Banaji, Rohini Banaji, S. Shasker, Bhagwan Josh, Vijay Singh, Debabratta Banerjee and Sanjib Raut. From Yashpal Kohli, Roshan Lal, Dharmal 'Bumi' and Chota Lal, all railwaymen, I learnt about the complexities of railway life, and about the historical and current problems of railwaymen. I wish to thanks them for the assistance rendered.

Mr Vijay Mehra, I wish to thank for taking pains in typing several drafts of the manuscript. To Mr G. Singh I owe my thanks for typing the final draft.

Responsibility for errors of fact or argument remains mine alone.

Jawaharlal Nehru University
New Delhi, 1983.

Lajpat Rai Jagga