ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

I take it as a privilege to work under Professor S. Gopal and I would like to offer my heartfelt tribute to him for his invaluable advice and guidance in every stage of my work.

To the following institutions and people I owe my deep gratitude:

- The University Grants Commission, New Delhi which gave me a Teacher Fellowship under the Faculty Improvement Scheme and the Centre of Post-Graduate Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, Imphal, Manipur (now Manipur University) which granted me a study leave.

- The Indian Council of Social Science Research (ICSSR), New Delhi which granted me maintenance grant for a three months' field trip to U.K. and without this timely help, the work could never have been completed.

- Mrs Sheila Kaul, Minister of State for Education; Mr P.K. Thungon, Deputy Minister of Education; and Mr N. Gougegin, Member of Parliament for having kindly arranged financial assistance out of the Ford Foundation Scheme for my travel expense to U.K.

- The staff of the Council of Baptist Churches of North-East India, Mission Compound, Guwahati; National Archives, New Delhi; and the Vidyajoti Library staff, Rajnivas Marg, New Delhi for their ungrudging cooperation and help.
The National Library of Wales, Aberystwyth and particularly to Dr (Miss) Rhiannon Roberts for her deep concern and the efficient assistance of her staff in the library.

The Baptist Missionary Society Library, Gloucester Place, London and particularly Rev Alan E. Easter, Mr Ken Harrison and other staff for their warm cooperation.

My friends Richard Pooley and Watcyn James, United Theological College, Aberystwyth for not only making my stay in Wales comfortable but also for translating some Welsh documents into English.

Dr (Rev.) Basil E. Jones, Aberystwyth and Miss Gween Rees Roberts, Bala, former missionaries to Lushai hills, from whom I learned many untold stories of their experiences.

The staff of the School of Oriental and African Studies Library, London University and the India Office Library, Blackfriars Road, for their warm and efficient assistance.

Mr Robert M.B. West, Research Scholar, University College of Wales, Aberystwyth and Professor M. Tarinayya, Department of English Literature, Manipur University, who read in part and kindly gave their constructive criticisms and suggestions.

Mr Amit Majumdar, Centre of German Studies, Jawaharlal Nehru University, who had kindly translated articles (in German) into English.
Rev. Geoffrey and Iola Thomas; John and Christine Lewis; Stephen Olyott and family; Ian and Pearle Moore; Dafydd and Rhiannon Ifans, Professor (Rev.) Stephen and Susan Williams, Aberystwyth, and my old-time friend, Mr. P.K. Telien and Mrs Kim Telien, Tottengham, London for their generous hospitality and inspiration.

All those Church leaders whom I interviewed in Mizoram, Haflong (N.C. Hills) and Manipur, whose names could not be listed here for want of space, for liberally pouring out their rich experiences at my disposal.

Professor Gangmuner Kabui, my teacher and colleague whose constant encouragement and unfailing help enabled me to complete the work.

My wife, Lal Hlu who looked after the home front so ably.
