Doing Ph.D. in mid-phase of my career has been tough, but a very rewarding experience. There are many who have helped and encouraged me in this roller coaster ride. I humbly take this opportunity to acknowledge them for their varied contributions.

First of all, I’d like to express my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Dr Arabinda Mishra, who not only guided me but also motivated me to strive for the best. The support, suggestions, critical insights and encouragement he offered are invaluable and enriched me both, personally and professionally. I would like to express my warm and sincere thanks to Dr P.K. Joshi, Dr Subir Sen and Dr Surender Kumar who not only helped me with the basics of GIS and economics but also guided me at very critical moments of my research. I am also very grateful to Dr Arun Kansal, Shri Anirban Ganguly, Dr Pia Sethi, Dr Kanchan Chopra and Dr Kavita Sardana for their valuable suggestions and critical reviews that greatly improved the quality of the research and this manuscript. The vast amount of field work and data collection for the research was possible only because of the grants from the International Development Research Centre, Ottawa, Canada (Information on the Centre is available on the web at www.idrc.ca) and I am very thankful to them for their timely assistance.

Immense encouragement and support for data collection and field work was extended by the Maharashtra State Forest Department and Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai (Hydraulic Engineering Department), Mumbai for which I would particularly like to thank Shri A.S. Patil, DCF, West Nashik; Shri Hiwalekar, DCF, Shahpur; Shri Argade, Shri Patwardhan, Shri. Malviya, Executive Engineer(s), Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai, Mumbai and their subordinates. The meticulous records of treatment costs maintained by Shri N. D. Kulkarni, Panjrapur Water Treatment Plant, Thane and the other such detailed records of Municipal Corporation of Greater Mumbai and Forest Department greatly facilitated the study. I also express my thanks to Dr Bothale, Director, Maharashtra Remote Sensing Applications Centre, Nagpur; Dr M.R.S. Murthy, National Remote Sensing Centre, Hyderabad; Shri Pawar, Executive Engineer, Maharashtra State Hydrological Project, Nasik; and Shri Ramteke and Shri Marulkar, Executive Engineer(s), Maharashtra Water Resource Department, Mumbai for free digitized maps/satellite images, hydrological data and other such records that were readily made available.

In addition, I would like to express my gratitude to Ministry of Social Justice and Empowerment, GOI and Maharashtra State Forest Department for approving my study leave for undertaking this research work. A special thanks to TERI University, Dr R.K. Pachauri and Dr Rajiv Seth for providing infrastructure and other necessary facilities to execute the research work. Thanks are also due to Shri Ratan Jha for promptly helping me to access the literature and IT desk for their ready assistance on many technical issues. I also acknowledge the kind support and assistance offered by Shri Sandeep Arora, Shri Kamal Sharma, Shri Subash Giri, Shri Rakesh Thakur, Shri Vikas Bhati and Shri Sunil Kumar on various administrative issues. I also take this opportunity to thank my friends-cum-fellow Ph.D. scholars – Shivakshi, Richa, Aastha, Preeti, Pooja, Shipra, Deepti, Pratima, Priya and Priyanka - who not only brought me back to my college days but supported me in countless number of ways including teaching the use of softwares.

And last, but not the least I would like to thank my family – my father who has been my source of inspiration; my mother and father in-law whose selfless and supportive attitude allowed me to be totally devoted to my work; my husband for not only being my emotional anchor and critic but also for helping me to align my priorities; my sisters – particularly Sangeeta – for pepping up my day with morning talks and ready help in all difficult situations; my brother-in-law who not only helped with grammatical corrections but also tolerated my telephonic sojourns with my sister at ghastly hours; and my daughter and nieces for their unfailing love and support in this journey.
