Acknowledgments

Many are the people to whom I should be thankful. A few of them, I can list here are:

Prof. P. Viswanath, my research supervisor, an important person in my career and life. He is very kind to me. I learnt many things from him, both technical and personal. I am indeed deeply indebted to him.

Dr. B. Eswara Reddy, my research co-supervisor, who helped me in understanding and appreciating technical aspects.

Prof. V. Vijay Kumar, Prof. Ananda Rao and Prof. K.V. Surya Narayana Rao, whose moral support and great encouragement, which I never forget in my life.

My family members: T. Vijaya Raghava Prasad, my father, T. Lakshmi, my mother, Veda and Srinivas, my sister and brother-in-law, who helped and supported me throughout my career. Mr. G.V. Giri, my uncle. I learnt hard-working from him.

Mrudula, my wife, extended her full support and encouragement to carry-out the research. Kruti, my daughter, always gives a simple and sweet smile, by looking at which I become happy and relaxed. Without their encouragement and support it may not be possible for me to complete the work.
