This thesis arose out of years of research done under the guidance of Prof. Rentala Madhubala in her laboratory whereby I have been accompanied, supported and cared by many people. It is a pleasure to convey my gratitude to them in my humble acknowledgement.

First and foremost, I offer my sincere gratitude to my supervisor, Prof. Rentala Madhubala for her supervision, advice and guidance from the very early stage of this research. She provided me unflinching encouragement and strength to tackle the problems. Her scientific intuition has made her a constant oasis of ideas and passions in science which exceptionally inspired and enriched my growth as a researcher and a scientist. I am indebted to her more than she expects.

I am extremely grateful to the previous Deans of SLS, Prof. R.N.K. Bamezai, Prof. P. K. Yadava and current Dean Prof. R. Madhubala for the support and help extended during my PhD work. I also thank all the faculty members of the School, especially, madam, Prof. N.B. Sarin, who had introduced me in SLS and cared me throughout my stay in JNU. I also benefited through scientific interactions with Prof. C.M. Mukhopadhyay, SCMM.

I sincerely thank Mr. Alexander, Dr. Sharma, Mr. B. A. Khan, Mr. Mishra, Jogendra, Mafduos and all the CIF and SLS staffs, especially Meenu madam for the technical and administrative help.

I greatly acknowledge University Grant Commission, India for the financial assistance!!!.

It is my pleasure to pay tribute to Tribhuvan University, Nepal, especially Central Department of Zoology for sanctioning my study leave. I thank all the previous and current Deans of Science and Technology, Heads of Central Department of Zoology, particularly Prof. Tej K. Shrestha and Prof. V.K. Thapa and all the faculty member colleagues, for their invaluable cooperation during my leave period. I also thank all the administrative staffs of the Department and University, particularly Narayan Devi Shrestha, Purushottam and my friend Laxmi for the help they provided.

I convey special acknowledgment to Dr. Shailendra Saxena for his indispensable help dealing with administrative matters. His friendly attitude and soothing words of solace always helped me to relieve my tensions.

I extremely feel lucky to have humorous and cheerful colleagues as family member in lab during my PhD tenure. I specially thank Prasad for teaching molecular biology and creating working environment. Though I spent only initial few years with him, his friendly behavior, selfless attitude and pleasant nature makes me feel his absence till date. I thank Angana, Sushma and Manju for their valuable suggestions, cooperation and help during their stay. I enjoyed working day and night in the lab with them. I really miss those working environment, friends!!!!!!

Many thanks go in particular to Anupam, Ankur, Swati C and Swati D for giving me such a pleasant time together with them since I started working in the lab. Special thanks to Swati D! We really enjoyed working together in many experiments.

My research life would not have been enjoyable and exciting without the company of my dear bold, bright and beautiful colleagues Bhavna, Neha, Bhavana (Chhota) and Neiha. Neha deserves special appreciation for giving company in all good and bad times; Neiha for her selfless help and Chhota for her enthusiastic proof read. Thanks Neha, Neiha and Chhota for being there always!!!.

Thanks are due to my short term labmates Jyoti Prakash and Atasi, who have provided memorable company and friendship during their stay.

I am thankful to Devraj ji, Govind and Raju for all the help they have rendered during my stay in the lab.

I am also thankful to my dear friends in the school, Sudhansu, Sangamitra, Dibendu, Dola, Ganesh, Sanjay, Gitanjali, Manoj, Ravi, Satpal, Shailesh, Surajit, Suresh, Nandini and Himansu. Special thanks to Ganesh who helped me in all possible ways with due attention. I really had a good time with all of them. I thank my SLS colleagues: Anita, Indram, Ashraf, Ratnakaran, Shibesh, Hemanta, Reshma, Poonam, Abhishek, Ajeet, Ashutosh and Gautam for their support in various ways. I shall always cherish the wonderful company of my dear friends!!!!!! Special thanks to my dear friends Nandini and Rahul; I won’t forget the company they have given when I was in need.

Thanks to all JNU friends! Especially, Brundaban, Akhil, Arbinda, Rakesh (SES), Sanjay and Nupur (SCMM), Prasad (Sri Lanka) and Abdi (Ethiopia).

S.K. Sharma (Raju) deserves special thanks for his brotherhood support during my family visit.

Collective and individual acknowledgments are also owed to my Nepali colleagues at JNU whose presence somehow perpetually refreshed, helped and was memorable. Many thanks go to Hari dai, Govinda Subedi, C.B. Budhathoki, Lal Raych, Surendra, Narayan, Devi madam, Bina madam, Prabha madam, Bikash, Amarendra, Deepak, Dinesh, Mahesh, Yogendra, Sher Bahadur, Sweta, Indra, Uma Shankar, Shiba Lal, Rajan and Sadhana (DU), for giving me such a pleasant time outside the lab. Thanks to Tara Joshi, Udhab Khadka, Udhab Pyakurel, Sadananda, Sachin, Roshan, Krishna Pant, Gopal Pandey and Pramod for refreshing discussions and lots of fun at tea table, hostel mess and in the room. Thanks to Sabitee madam, Laxmi madam and Mahanadi family team (Vikash-Bhauju, Deepak-Manisha-Babu, Indra-Udhab-Adhit, Dinesh-Pratiksha-Bihan-Puchhi, Sudeep-Deepa-Sudin and Keshab-Lalita-Sambhani) for their warm hospitality.

It is a pleasure to express my gratitude wholeheartedly to Sudeep sir’s family for their love as part of a family member.

Thanks to all JNU community, particularly Brahmaputra mess community for their healthy and nourishing food in time. Canteen and Dhaba communities specially Pramod, who was always ready to serve “Maggie and tea” during mid-night.

I would like to thank my friends in Nepal, specially Dan Bahadur, Bholu Nath and Tirtha for their wholehearted support in every aspect. Thanks Badri! For your help in arranging plane tickets, most of the time.
The main credit of my thesis goes to my grand father, late. Dhan Lal Maharjan, who had put the foundation of my learning career, showing me the joy of intellectual pursuit ever since I was a child. My parents (Ba Dhan Singh and Ma Moti Maya Maharjan) deserve special mention for their unending love, care, encouragement and sacrifice to achieve this milestone today. I would like to specially mention my brothers, Dai Bhuju (Rajendra – Meena), Bhai Buhari (Birendra – Usha; Gajendra – Shova) and Rabintra, who were always there to support me all the times. Thanks to growing pillars of my family Rajesh, Rashmi, Binisha and Shopnil Ganga for their childhood smile.

Words fail to express my appreciation to my wife Meena whose dedication, love and persistent confidence in me, has taken the load off my shoulders. I owe her for being unselfishly let her intelligence, passions and ambitions collide with mine. I would also thank my in-law’s family for their love, support, encouragement and accepting me as a member of the family, warmly. My beautiful, lovely and bright daughters Manogya and Pranogya became my biggest strength to accomplish this long journey. I am in loss of words to express my appreciation to my daughters for their patience and sacrifice. Lots and lots of love, my daughters!!!!!!!

Finally, I would like to thank everybody who was important to the successful realization of thesis, as well as expressing my apology that I could not mention them personally one by one.
