The researcher strongly believes in the statement that research is a collaborative effort. Alone it is not possible to complete the work. While working, you need both technical and moral support. While working on thesis there were times when the researcher was stuck sometimes technically and sometimes mentally and motivationally, but having such beautiful and helpful people around, who were always ready to render their services and support, the researcher was able to come out of all difficult situations.

First of all, the researcher is thankful to God Almighty who bestowed health and will power and to surround with lovely friends and family to undertake the doctoral program and finally complete the thesis.

The researcher offers gratitude to, Prof. Aditya Shastri, the Hon’ble Vice Chancellor, Banasthali University for his kind acceptance of the application enabling the researcher to enroll into the doctoral program. I express my gratitude towards the Pro-Vice Chancellor of Banasthali University, Prof. Ina Shastri and the researcher’s previous Dean WISDOM and now Vice President Banasthali University Prof. Siddharth Shastri, who gave the researcher the opportunity to pursue the research work under the University.

The researcher is extremely grateful to the Research Guide and the now Dean of WISDOM Dr. Harsh Purohit, whose continuous guidance, valuable suggestions, prompt communication, keen observation, generous support and motivation enabled the researcher to finish the research.

Next the researcher is extremely grateful to a Dear Friend & Co Guide Associate Prof. Richa Chaudhary, IES Mgmt College & Research Centre who did not left a single stone unturned to help writing the thesis.
The researcher expresses gratitude to the Research Section, Banasthali University, for the kind support in all administrative works. The researcher did not face any instance wherein administrative hassle came on the way. The researcher is very thankful to Sh. Praveen Babel, Librarian, WISDOM, who provided the knowledge resource during the research work.

The researcher is grateful to the Director, MDI, Gurgaon and the Chief Librarian Mr. Jose, who allowed to use their knowledge bank and also offered special permissions just to help the research work. Also very grateful to the libraries the researcher visited - American Library, Library at IIMK satellite campus, Cochin, MNIT, Jaipur, Bharati Vidyapith, Delhi enabled the researcher to explore their data bank while the researcher visited their campus for conferences and Seminars.

The researcher is grateful to Prof. Neeraj Kaushik, NIT Kurukshetra whose technical expertise guided throughout the analysis.

The dear students, whom the researcher guided once, provided great support during the phases of Data collection and analysis especially mentioning Dear Ms. Nidhi Choudhary and Ms. Harshita Pancharia and many others. The students were so prompt and helpful, that the researcher felt great that she was once in a position to guide these bright kids.

Last but not least the researcher’s father Sh. S.P. Mathur, lovely daughter Malhaar and all the family members who continuously supported and kept motivated all through the research endeavour.
