ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

In the first place, I am indebted to the Janaki Devi Bajaj Institute of Management Studies, S.N.D.T Women’s University, which has accepted me for Doctorate Program and provided me with an excellent opportunity to carry out the present research project.

I wish to express my deep sense of gratitude to my Guide, Dr Gulnar Sharma, Former Director, Janaki Devi Bajaj Institute of Management Studies for her continual support, encouragement, and patience throughout this research endeavor. I admire her dedication to students, teaching, and research, as well as her commitment to women’s issues and social justice. Her guidance has been instrumental in my success.

I am highly indebted to Dr. Ajit Singh (Director General), Prof. Kuljeet G Kahlon (librarian) and Staff of Guru Nanak Institute of Management Studies for their cooperation and support in completing the project.

I express my gratitude to Mr. Ratudi of HARC, Mr. Satsangi & Mr. Banwarilal of RCDF, Ms. Labhu Ben & Suchita Ben of SEWA and Ms. Hetal & Ms. Pooja from MarketPlace: Handwork of India for facilitating my visits to survey various cooperatives. These individuals provide students like me with unforgettable, enriching, and often life-changing experiences.

The thesis could not have been completed, if not for the help and encouragement from various people. I would like to take this opportunity to thank Mrs. Prassana Thapa for assisting in fieldwork, Mr. & Mrs. Sukhwinder Singh Chaddah for constantly motivating me and giving valuable suggestions during the development of this thesis.

My thanks and appreciations also go to my colleagues Prof Jyotinder Kaur Chaddah, Prof Rabiya Jidda and Prof Neha Mathur in helping me in my research work.

I dedicate this thesis to my father Late.Shri Kamal Singh Chauhan, who was firm believer in empowering women by educating them. Finally, I would like to express my heartfelt thanks to my mother and my brothers for their blessings and special thanks to my sister in law Avanti Chauhan and my dear friend Shweta Katvi for all the help and wishes for the successful completion of the thesis.

Place:

Date: Signature of the student