ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

The present work comes forth through the inspiration, guidance and supervision of Professor Sandwip Kumar Das. At every stages of this endeavor, he clarified and rectified with his deep understanding. My regards to him is profound. I also thank Mrs. Das and Monica for their kind hospitality.

Professors Ashok Guha, Manmohan Agarwal, Manoj Pant and Alokesh Barua of SIS, JNU, provided me vital clues of my work. I thank them all. The discussions with Professor B. N. Goldar of IEG, Dr. Atul Sarma of the ISI and Dr. Basanta K. Pradhan of NCAER has given me valuable insight in the earlier stages of this research. I am grateful to them.

Inspite of their busy schedule, Professor Subhashis Gangopadhyay of the ISI, and Dr. Wilima Wadhwa of SERFA has rendered me the much-needed help and logistic support in the final stage of this thesis. I am very much thankful to them.

I should not forget the help and encouragement given to me by Professor Sujit Kumar Kundu and Professor Pranab Kumar Guha in my college days. I take this opportunity to pay my sincere regards to them.

Among my friends, Dripto Mukhopadhyay always remained beside me from its inception to its end. However, mere thanking may belittle his selfless support. I have also shared precious friendship and support of Mr. Pradip K. Biswas, Swapan Mondal, Byasdev Dasgupta, Kisholey Bandyopadhyay, Hangsang Lee, O. P. Sharma, Krishna Gupta, Sanja S. Pattanayak, Amarnath H.K., P.C.Pandey, Madan Mohan Ghosh, Krishnendu Ghosh Dastidar, Sadhan Chattopadhyay, Deb Choudhury, Balwant Bisht and Sunil. I thank them all for their kind co-operation during the various stages of this work.

The University Grant Commission has provided me the financial assistance. I have also been provided with extensive library and computer facilities in JNU, Delhi School of Economics and ISI, New Delhi. My sincere thanks go to these organizations and its member staff.

I have shared a lot of enthusiasm from my brothers and sisters. My sincere regards and love to Tultuld, Bulbuldi, Gautamda, Sanjib and Bapin for their valuable support and encouragement.

My wife Chaitali's unending love for this work has given me invaluable co-operation and encouragement in all the phases. Virtually she is the spirit and soul of this work! Without her earnest desire the present work would not have been in the present shape. My love and regards to her is immense.

I cannot forget the blessings and love given to me by my father-in law and mother-in law. At every stages of this work they have given me the courage to accomplish it. I take this opportunity to pay my respectful regards to them.

Finally, I would like to pay my esteem regards to my father and my mother, who with their blessings and support have acted as like a sunbeam to show me the right direction.
